Early in September when the Archive staff first began to discuss definite plans for the yearbook it was quickly decided that a different approach was needed to make the 1974 edition more interesting. It was agreed to do away with the "traditional" sectional structure and put to use some of the ideas that had been introduced to us in the several workshops we had attended. After much thought, we came up with an idea for a six part book combining features and sports and presenting them in chronological order with other divisions for people, opening, closing, and finances.

In a search for originality, art students were asked to submit their own ideas for cover design. From these, a black and white composition done by Mark Flippin was, after a few alterations, chosen to serve as the cover.

Although the school year 1973-'74 could hardly be described as one of startling change, every staff member worked to bring out both the good and bad things that made it significant for all.

As Year Pro- gresses, Interest Heightens for Some, While Others Feel It Drag

Junior, Harold Gregory finds that weekly routines are much the same from the beginning to the end of school.

Much spirit was displayed during the last few weeks of basketball season as the possibility of entering the district tournament arose.

Preparations for graduation are being made throughout most of the school year. Chris Corbett helps determine cap and gown sizes in government class.

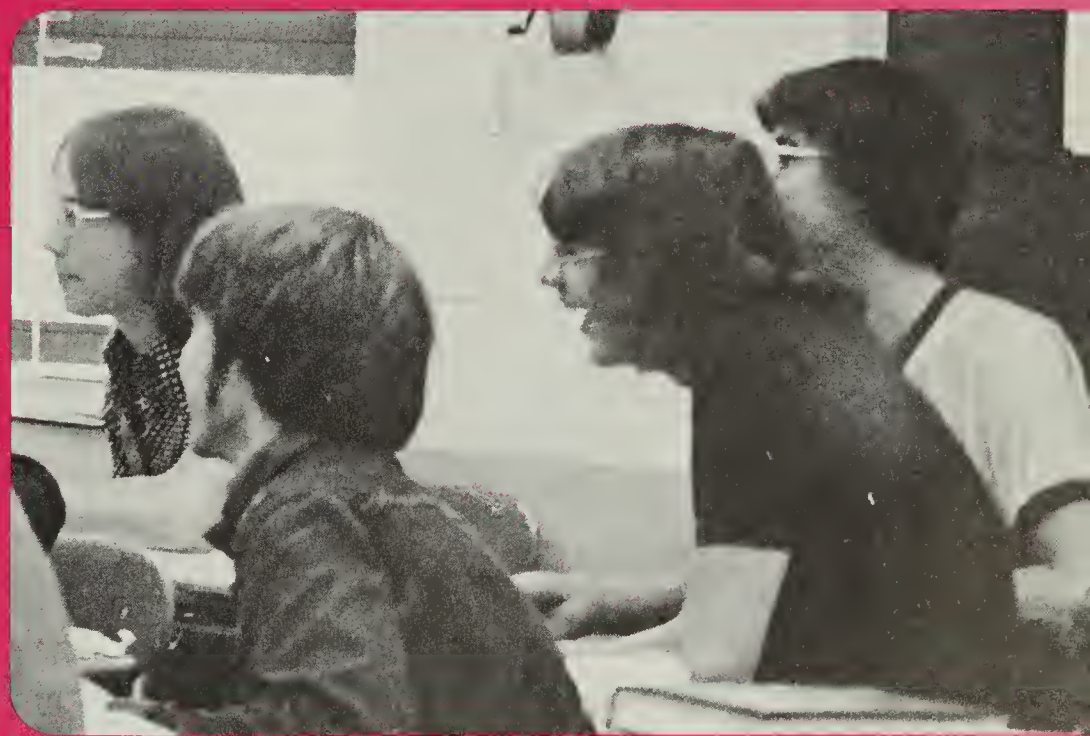

As music blares in the background, Becky Fulcher and H. L. Clement socialize with friends.

Addressing the student body, Debbie Coalson, presides at a fall assembly.

The auditorium has been used less frequently this year for programs and assemblies, making its main function — study hall.

Second period Chemistry students Tim Bell, Terry Spangler, Ricky Fulcher, and Darrell Agee find class still rather difficult at mid-term.

Seniors, Chris Corbett and Mark Tolson entertain students at lunch by playing popular music over the P.A. system in the cafeteria.

Working in the shop occupies Agriculture class time for Ronnie Haynes and John Lawless.

The enthusiasm displayed by class-member Martha Loggins during a pep rally competition helps win spirit stick for Seniors.

Subfreshman, Linda Clark, appears to be enjoying time in class during the early part of the day.

Students Find Time for Both Work and Pleasure

We come to school day after day primarily to receive an education, but the pleasurable things we experience in the process are what make school years most memorable. It's not the long hours spent researching and studying for a term paper, the times you abided by the rules, or the number of games that were lost in one season that you remember in later years, but the A you received for all that work, the things you got away with, and the greatest victories. So, that a combination of business and pleasure it seems can pay off in the long run.

Fuel Shortage

Resulting Schedule Changes Biggest Student Problem

Students returning from Christmas vacation found that the dollars they had recently paid for parking permits could have been put to better use in the palm of the local service station attendant. Area gas prices had zoomed over the holidays and more and more stations displayed signs reading "No Gas Sales" and "$2.00 Limit".

High cost and scarcity of fuel brought some significant changes in many routines. The usual nine to three school day was changed to ten to four after the nationwide switch to Daylight Savings Time so that bus riders would be spared the perils of waiting in the dark. This, in turn, produced conflicting schedules for many students with jobs after or during regular school hours.

Thermostats were lowered and the School Board asked that no one drive to school unless absolutely necessary as immediate efforts to conserve fuel. Those who stopped driving either because of the request, difficulty in getting gas, or for financial reasons often found themselves traveling back and forth under the unusually crowded conditions of the bus system as a result.

Once the initial changes were made and the shortage situation was accepted, conformity came more easily. Personal sacrifices seemed hard for some, but did not prove to create a large number of problems that could not be solved in one way or another.

Many regular customers drive into local service stations only to be turned away. Proprietors have resorted to placing limits on customers and selling gasoline only a few days a week because of a substantial cut by distributors.

Many students have found that with rising gasoline prices, weekly expenditures prohibit driving to school every day.

More and more students have stopped driving and begun to rely on buses to take them back and forth between home and school.

Limits per customer, in many cases make it almost impossible to obtain a full tank without driving from service station to service station.

Spring & Summer

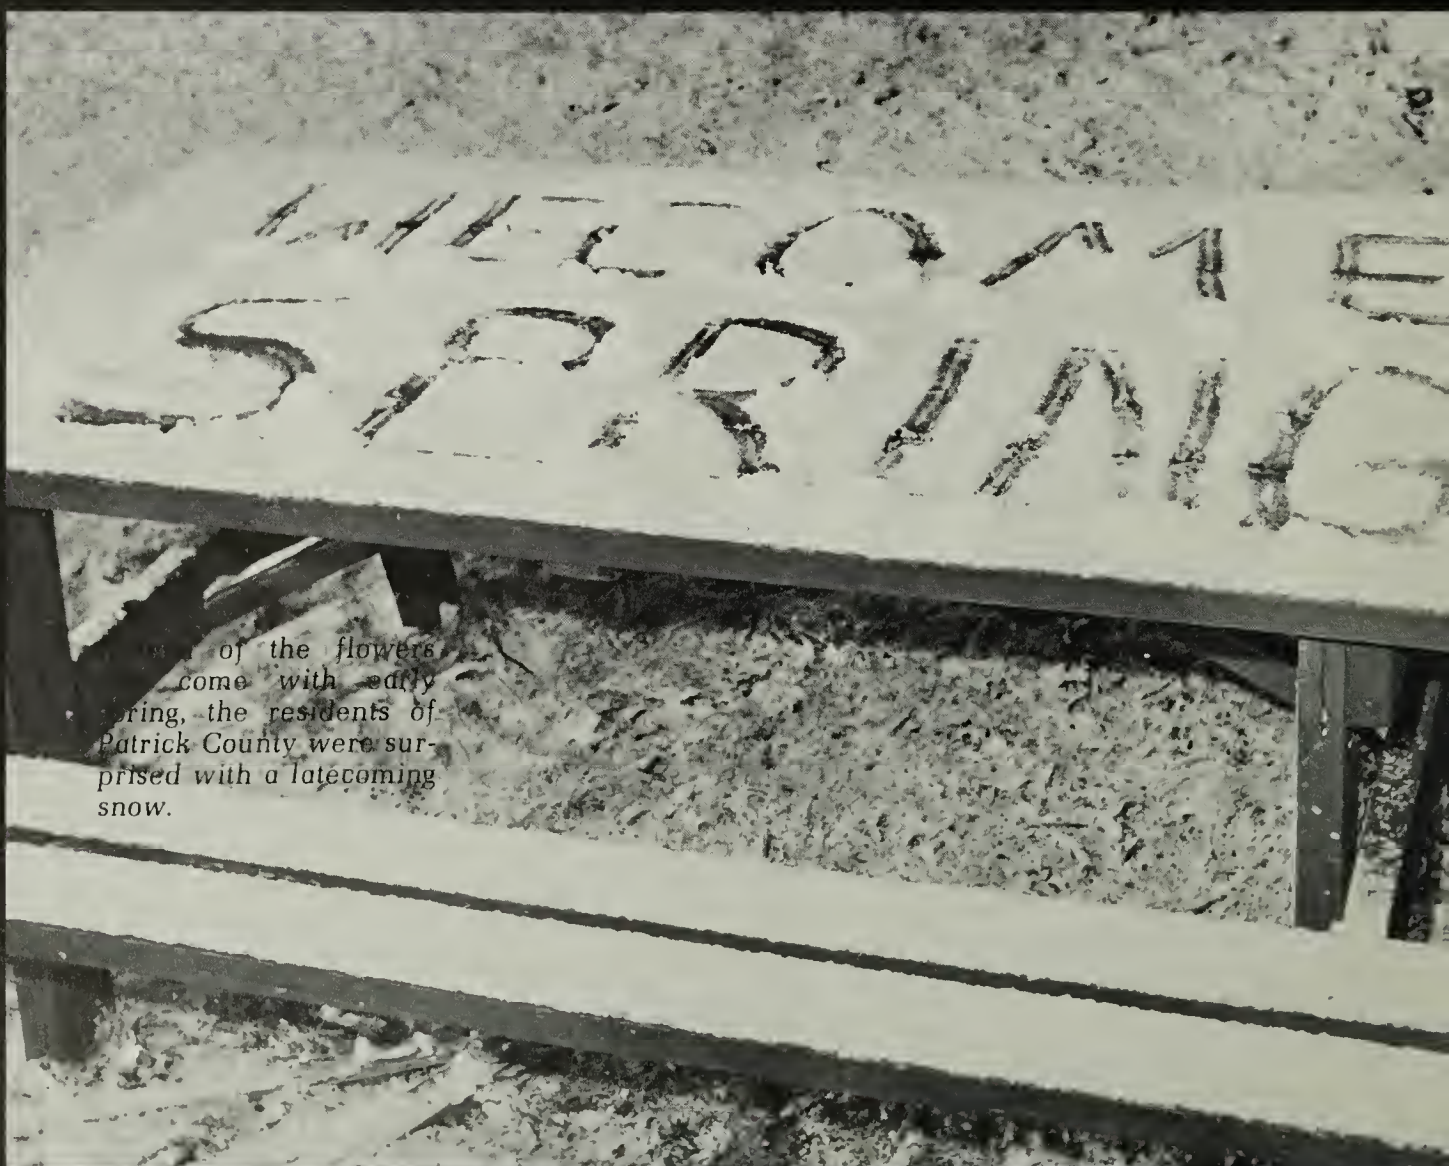

Spring is, without a doubt, the busiest time of year at PCHS. Even as we welcomed the '73 session with an unexpected March snow, preparations were being made for every activity from baseball to graduation.

As the season progressed, much too quickly for some and sluggishly for others, many students engaged actively in sports, organizing the Junior-Senior Prom and the annual school carnival, and practicing once again for the Miss Patrick County Beauty Pageant.

In addition to these events, we were also able to enjoy PCHS Days toward the end of May in the midst of a growing atmosphere of anticipating the last days of school and approaching summer season.

The pressure of many hours of studying and taking final exams was over. With a new sense of freedom, for a while at least, we said good-bye to school friends and the '73 school year. The Patrick County student body, administration and faculty, no longer unified by the school, plunged into the summer months as individuals with their own special plans and activities to carry out.

On a typical summer day most students would be found spending lazy days at home watching soap operas and reruns of "I Love Lucy," working in a grocery store or a nearby factory, attending summer school, camps and workshops or making frequent trips to the beach for exciting vacations.

Although summer is the forgotten season as far as the school year is concerned, it does play an important part in the lives of high school students by allowing time for fun and relaxation without the every day problems of school.

Keith Hopkins manages to get back to first base ahead of a tag in one of the initial games of the spring season.

On "dress up" day during C.H.S. day, Sherry Haas, Margaret Pemo and friends take advantage of this opportunity and wear hot pants.

The 1973-74 Miss Potrick County, Kathy Simmons, smiles with feelings of happiness over her newly won title.

Spring fever gives Lorry Nowlin on extro push towards the finish line.

Peace ...

"I'll tell you the sweetest words I ever heard were by my two daughters; 'Here comes Daddy'," states Col. Hatcher.

Beaming with pride in her husband, Mrs. Hatcher receives a standing ovation.

Lieutenant Colonel David Hatcher, a prisoner of war in Hanoi, North Vietnam, delivered a very moving speech at a special assembly held March 14, 1973. Lt. Col. Hatcher completely held the students and many guests gathered in the gym in deep silence during his entire speech and was cordially received with standing ovations before and after his address.

The POW had just returned to the United States 11 days earlier before he accepted the invitation to speak at PCHS. His entire talk centered around the faith that he and all of the POW's had in God and that they never gave up hope that they might someday return to America.

An excerpt from Hatcher's statement displays the feelings of the POW. "And as the days, the years passed, there was our strength, our faith in God that helped us retain through those years. I will always keep faith in the United States of America. There were a number of opportunities throughout the years where our faith might have the opportunity to wain. Of course, our captors were trying to encourage this."

Col. Hatcher, who resides in nearby Mt. Airy, N. C., was among the first group to return to the United States and seemed to be in excellent health and definitely looked younger than his age of 38.

For almost seven years, Col. Hatcher was held captive in what he continuously referred to as the "Hanoi Hilton." Even though he had gone through a lot in all those years of captivity, he wasn't bitter toward the U. S. for getting into this war. In fact, he could not have been more sincere in his patriotism for the United States.

Students deeply moved by returning POW.

As Stewart Roberson leads the students and faculty in the Pledge of Allegiance, Lt. Col. Hatcher salutes the colors.

With Honor

As the crowd cheers, Lt. Col. Hatcher exclaims, "Go Cougars!"

Before the assembly, Col. Hatcher is greeted by Charles Baughan and Edward Turner.

Joan Shelton was crowned "Miss Deb" in the first annual Patrick County High School Miss Deb Pageant.

The theme for the Pageant was set by Assistant Principal John Weatherman singing "Autumn Leaves."

Susie Semones provided piano accompaniment for the entire pageant.

The Pageant was presented Saturday November 3, in the auditorium to benefit the library.

First runner-up was Cathy Turner, other finalists were Joan Cox, Anne Wigington, Evette King, and Shirley Rakes. All were presented gifts.

Vicki Hutchens was voted "Miss Congeniality" by the girls.

Entertainment was furnished between rounds. Turner and Lynn Foddrell, a father and son team, provided country music. Pam Collins, head majorette, performed a baton twirling routine.

Penny Simmons sang and accompanied herself on the zither. Martha Tilley sang three selections with her sister Jane accompanying on the piano.

Master of Ceremonies was Dr. James A. Law, O.D.

Joan Shelton Crowned In

Even though the moments were tense, Shirley Rakes manages to smile for the audience.

Black History Week

Black History week assembly was brought to a close by a song and dance routine by lead singer Janet Martin and group.

The week of February 12-16 was a special week for students, faculty, and administration at PCHS. There were various events throughout the week, but an assembly on Friday brought out the true meaning of Black History Week. Each morning, the life story of a famous black person and his contributions to history was heard over the intercom. During lunch each day, soul and spiritual music was played. Wednesday was the day that some students were seen dressed in African style. On Thursday and Friday traditional foods were served in the cafeteria. On Friday an assembly took place in the auditorium which brought the week to a close.

At the mention of "legs" Jason Spencer haults to find James Hyler auctioning the slaves.

Speaking to a lively congregation "Rev." James Hatcher gives a rousing sermon.

Giving a realistic performance, Melva Hicks portrayed Harriet Tubman who led the slaves to freedom during the Civil War.

"Boo hoo! I want to go to the ball but I gotta mop the floor and I don't have a dress to wear!" cries Cinderella, Frances Hunt, to a sympathetic Fairy God Mother, Lynn Bryant.

In the arena, the spectators watch as the Lions are eating the Christians, but here the Lion, Jeff Stultz meets his old friend Androcles, Maurice Redd, who removed the thorne from his paw.

In the forest the Lion, Jeff Stultz is pleading with Androcles, Maurice Redd, to relieve his pain.

Skits of Foreign Language Week

Cleopatra, Jennifer Inman and Caesar, Billy Inman are having a family discussion in the play "A take-off on the love life of Julius Caesar and Cleopatra."

"It's not nice to fool Mother Nature! Being fooled by Chiffon margarín, Mother Nature, Amy Carter is slightly irritated.

Foreign language week for the Spanish Club and Latin Clubs started a festive week on Monday with members of both clubs dressing in costumes representing their language. On Tuesday, students from both clubs went to the local radio station to be on "Activity Time," to tell of the events of the week. An assembly was given on Wednesday with the Spanish Club doing a Spanish version of Cinderella and the Latin presenting Androcles and the Lion. Thursday night a Spanish/Latin banquet was given, with a dance afterwards. In addition to all of this, each day the cafeteria served a meal representative of a foreign country.

"Cinderella, I love you; you are beautiful," Prince Charming, Sammy Rorrer, is enchanted by Cinderella, Frances Hunt.

Cougars Place Agee, Sumerford in State Meet

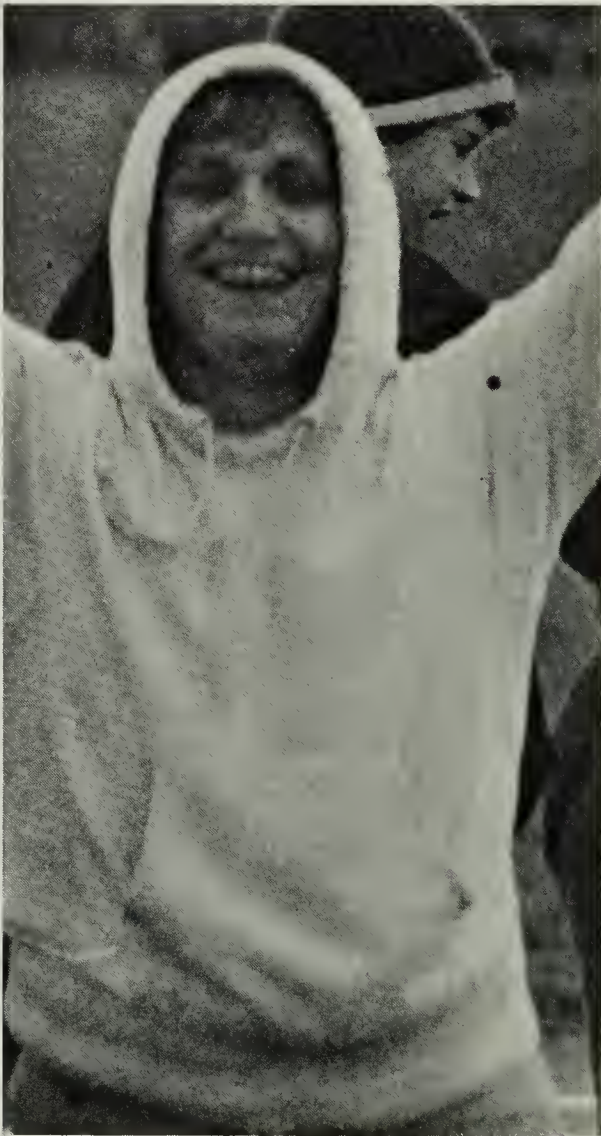

Enroute to another track record, Vance Agee easily clears the bar in the pole vault.

Paced by the individual brilliance of Vance Agee and Mark Sumerford, Patrick County continued to improve in Track and represented the Cougars well in the State Track Meet last May. The season also produced nine qualifiers for the District Meet at Fieldale-Collinsville.

Agee advanced to the State event in the Intermediate Hurdles. Although he was clocked at 39.0 seconds, the same time possessed by the winner, Vance came in second place by a photo finish.

Sumerford was sixth in the Two-Mile run, but ran with the best time in PC history with a showing of 10.21 minutes.

Victory! yells Billy Corns.

Taking the top spot in the intermediate hurdles, Vance Agee was the winner in the District meet at FC.

Crossing the finish line in the mile, Mark Sumerford gives a strong showing in the State Track Meet.

Although the season didn't produce many victories, it did show a lot of improvement in the cinder sport. An exciting victory over Dan River with the last event, the Mile Relay, deciding the outcome, was the highlight of the season.

During the spring, the Cougar thin-clads set nine records. Agee set two of them in the Intermediate Hurdles and High Hurdles. Sumerford also set new records in the Mile and Two-Mile.

Other record-breakers were Gary Dalton in the shotput and Discus, Mike Cooper in the 880, and Ronald Younger in the 440. The last record was set by the relay team. The team consisted of Agee, Phillip Brim, Ronald Younger, and Mark Sumerford.

PCHS DAYS

Looking like Alice Cooper, Burley Johnson takes advantage of dress-up day.

The highlight of the 1972-73 school year was PCHS Days. Held May 9-11, PCHS Days were filled with many activities. Wednesday was dress up day. Students wore everything from a tux to bibbed overalls. Students were able to express themselves in the clothes they wore. The FTA presented an assembly in the auditorium. It consisted of skits of various teacher types. Noel Wood presented a plaque to the school inscribed with the names of the Teachers of the Years. The climax of the assembly came when Karen Turner presented the Teacher of the Year award to Mr. George Rigney.

The Archive arrived on Thursday. After the play Turnaround was presented, Donna Martin, Editor, presented the Archive to the student body. Seniors of '73 then went to the football field for their picnic. Classes were not held during the afternoon so students could sign annuals.

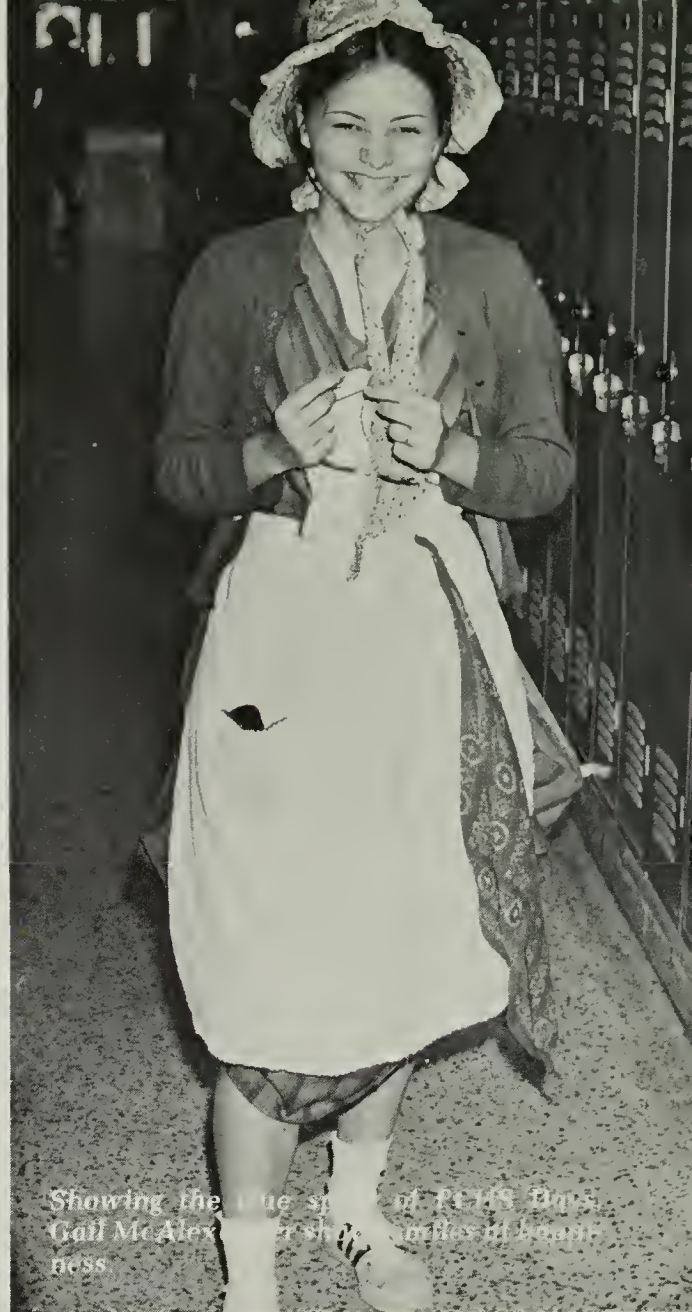

On Friday, the students were excused from 6th period and everyone went to the gym for the sock hop. Music was provided by the Medieval Prophecy.

Warming up, Duke Turman and Ricky Hill get together on a song.

As the band takes a break the students relax.

At the PCHS Carnival, clubs were able to sponsor booths. Entertainment ranged from ping pong to a haunted house. About 200 students came out and enjoyed this activity sponsored by the ICC and SCA.

Place in District

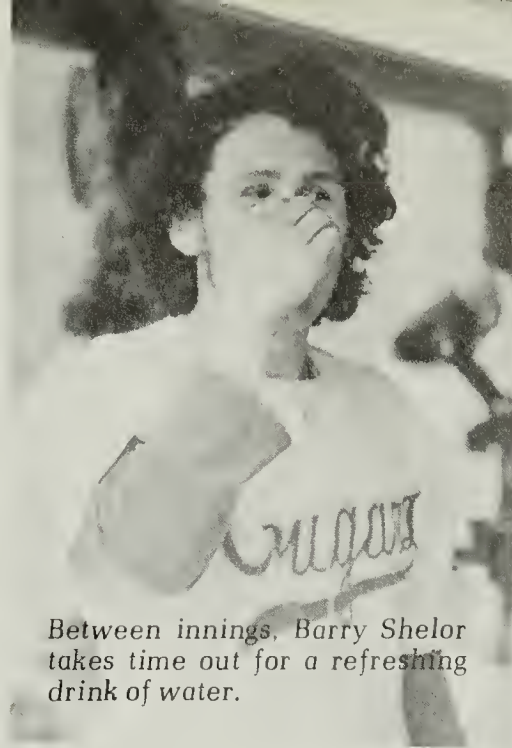

Patrick County compiled a 14-6 baseball record to become the school's first winning varsity team. After building for his fine team for three years, the Cougars started out the season with eight straight victories.

The team stayed in contention for the District Championship until it lost a crucial 11-4 game to Tunstall for their first loss and dropped them into second place. After this, Patrick County finished the season losing the final three games and forced a three way tie for second in the district.

Because the league sent two representatives to the Regional Championship, the tie had to be broken. What resulted was a single elimination two day play-off. Laurel Park defeated Dan River in the first contest while the Cougars drew a bye.

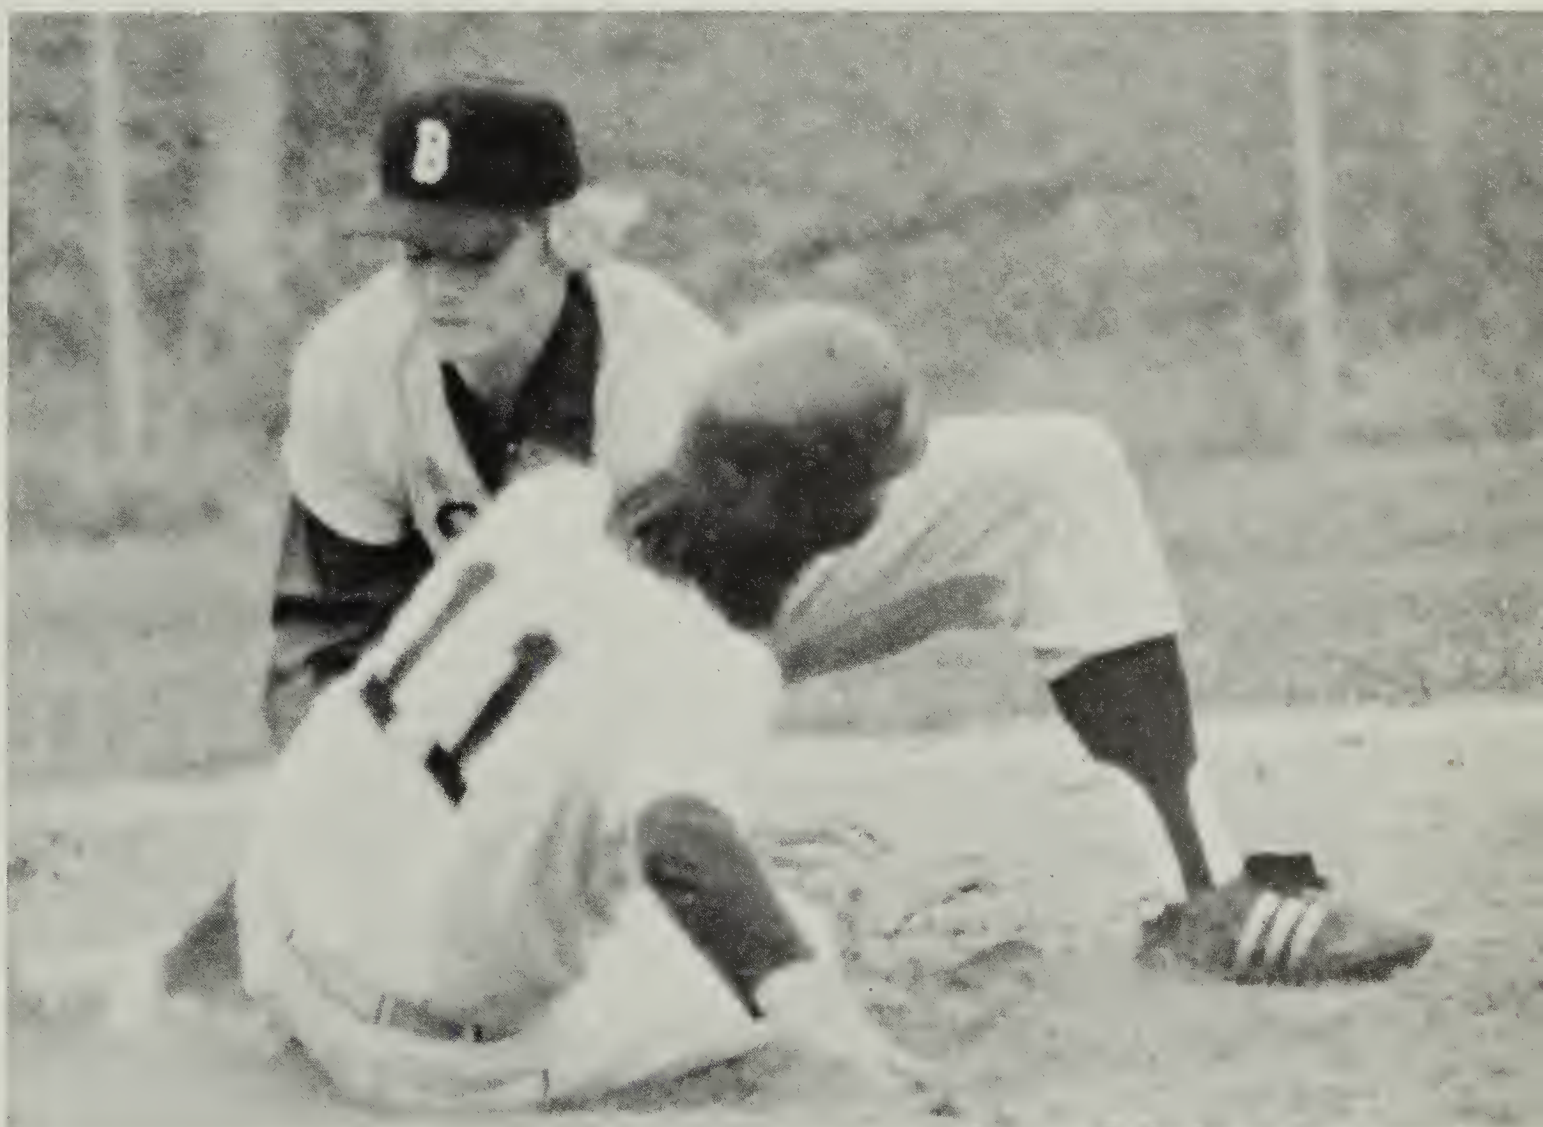

The next day the Lancers pulled out a close game in the closing innings and claimed second to finish Patrick County's finest season ever in Varsity Sports.

Although heavily hit by graduation, the Cougars have several capable returnees led by last year's Most Valuable Player, Gerald Culler to build on.

The Cougars were led by seniors Ricky Cole, Jimmy Goad, Keith Hopkins, Keith Nowlin, Tommy Rakes, Barry Shelor, and Johnny Witt. In addition, Patrick placed seven players on the All-Piedmont District team.

Strongpoint of the team was the excellent hitting. Five players finished the season above .300 while Hopkins paced the team with an average of .434. This placed him third in the district.

Sponsored by the Student Action for Education (FAE), the '73 award was the second to be presented at PCHS. Mr. Rigney was chosen because of his character and ability to make even an English class interesting. Mr. Rigney was presented his plaque during the SAE assembly of PCHS Days. Miss Karen Turner, Vice-President of the club, presented the award and gave him a congratulatory kiss. Mr. Rigney's name now will go on the school's plaque of the Teachers of the Years.

Trying to find a suitable band for the dance was a difficult task, but after much argument it was decided upon to have the Iron Horse from Roanoke.

On April 28, 1973 the Junior-Senior Prom was held in the Patrick County High School Cafeteria at 8:00 p.m. For the juniors, it was the end of exchanging ideas and planning, the end of setting up props, hanging crepe paper and selling magazines to earn money to sponsor the dance. For Seniors it was the beginning of the end of their last year in high school. After many arguments over different bands, the band committee for the Junior-Senior decided on the Iron Horse from Roanoke. Many students enjoyed this annual event sponsored by the Junior Class.

Forensics Growing at P.C.H.S.

School competition in Forensics was held on December 11, 1973. The purpose of the Patrick County High School Forensics program is to foster among the students a program of supervised competitions and desirable school activities as an aid in the total education of students. All students are urged to participate. Competitions are held in school, district, regional, and state levels.

Winners representing P.C.H.S. in the district in December were: Mary Frances Hunt — Girls Extemporaneous, Kenneth Pendleton — Boys Extemporaneous, Lynn Massie — Girls Original Oratory, Jeff Stultz — Boys Original Oratory, Mike Nunn — Boys Prose, Anita Wray — Girls Prose, Lamont Bryant — Boys Poetry, Janice Stewart — Girls Poetry, and Chris Corbett — Spelling.

Winners in this year's forensics competition are: Lamont Bryant, Janice Stewart, Mike Nunn, Anita Wray, Jeff Stultz, Lynn Massie, Kenneth Pendleton, Mary Frances Hunt, and Chris Corbett.

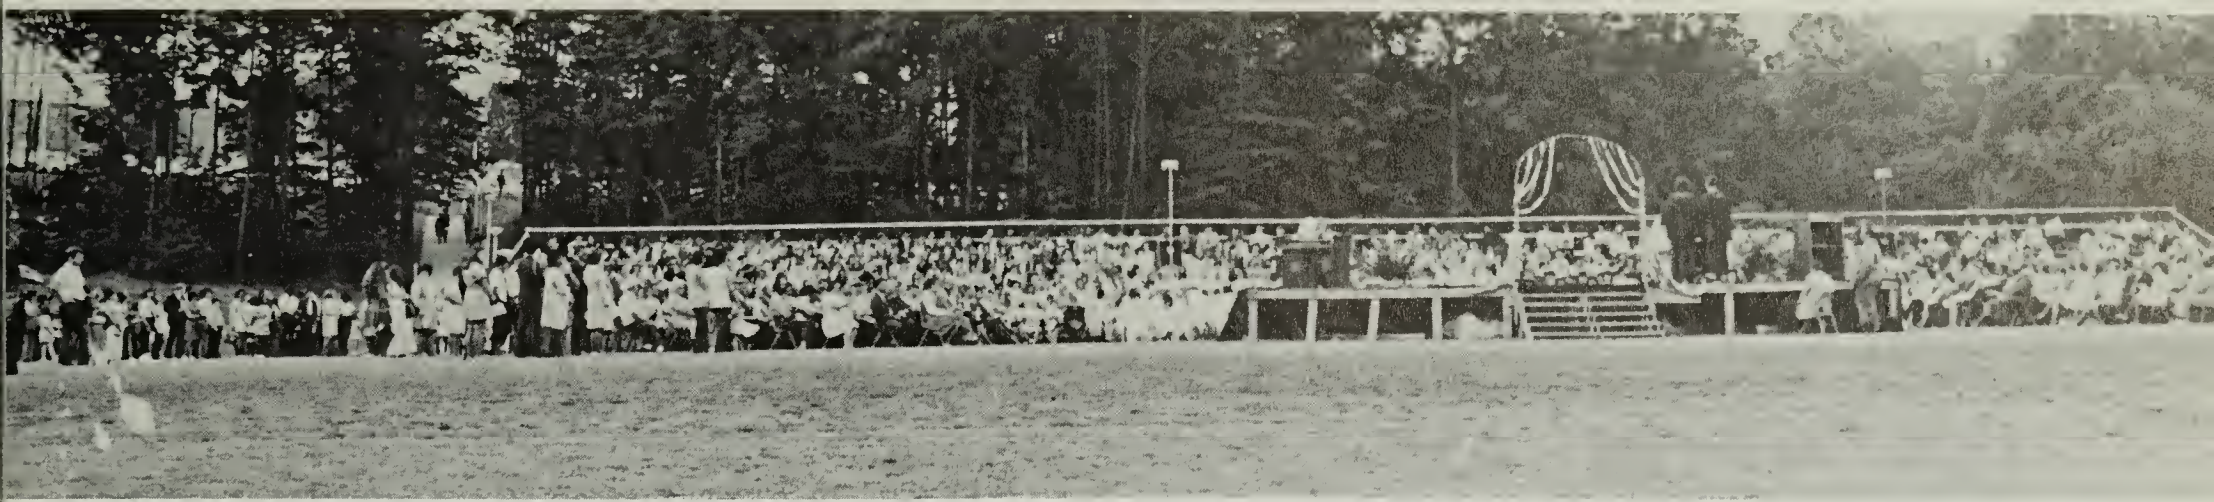

Even with his other various activities, Mr. George Rigney still has time to help with Forensics.

Graduation 1973

The Senior choir, directed by Mr. Bill Pons, sings "The Halls of Ivy" for the enjoyment of all parents.

What memories flood a senior's mind as he files down the aisle to receive his diploma? Are they thoughts of leaving the school he is finally beginning to be familiar with, leaving his high school friends, or are they thoughts of what's going to happen now, and where do I go from here. Some think about summer, others about what's going to happen after summer, whether it be college, work, or marriage. Some know what they are going to do, others still are undecided. But as your name is called, your thoughts wander over the class motto, "There are no strangers in the world, only friends we haven't met yet". You will soon find out because you are now not a senior in high school, but a graduate of 1973.

Schools out, summer is here, and vacation has finally come. Thoughts scurry from beaches, moonlight walks, trips to other states, horseback riding and motorcycling, to work, getting up even earlier than before, and college in the very near future. School vacation started on June 6, 1973 and in a few days many students were packing their bags getting ready for a trip to the beach. Many others were taking off to other states. Some going to Georgia to visit Six Flags over Georgia, Florida to see Disney World and the Daytona 500, Rhode Island to visit the members of their family, and Washington, D.C. to visit the White House and various museums. But to other students vacation meant getting up even earlier to go to work. Many students worked at the R. J. Reynolds Memorial Hospital, Blue Ridge Nursing Home, and the more scenic places as the Circle M Zoo, Dan River Queen and Mabry's Mill. But as usual summer is too short and school is in session once again. But summer will be again and even better than before.

Many students from PCHS spent their time warking at variaus spats in the cauntly. A candystriper at the lalcal hospital Danna Smith chats with a patient.

Ever In Patrick County

Music appreciation holds high position in workshops for the talented.

The cross near the church is the first thing people want to see when they visit Ferrum College.

Taking a breather from a hectic day of activities, Clare Diming, and Jerry Tatum relax in front of the library.

Participating in art, music and other fields of art appreciation, from the basics of the studies in the workshops provided by the state of Virginia. Three students from Patrick County High School were given the privilege of attending two of the workshops in Virginia. Clare Dimming and Jerry Tatum attended the Blue Ridge Arts and Crafts Institute, at Ferrum College, Ferrum, Virginia. This Institute was the first offered in this part of the county. It was in operation for three weeks, July 23-August 12. After finding the skill that appealed to them most, the students were turned loose to express themselves in any manner they chose. Jerry and Clare expressed their feelings of the institute in wishing that all students could enjoy the institute provided for them.

Residents of Patrick County were able to enjoy, for the first time, the small circus that came to this area in early September.

Mild, springlike temperatures left sleds, and iceskates in storage during the month of January.

Winter 1973-'74

The 53 classroom building that had been left so abruptly lifeless in June opened its doors once again in late August to students beginning another school year. Sweltering temperatures, class pictures, the opening assembly, and college day marked the month of September, reintroducing everyone to the rituals of school life.

An exciting football season was well underway by late October when Homecoming representatives from every class were chosen. As temperatures continued to drop, fans moved from the football field to the gym to welcome the start of basketball season in December.

Heavy snows and the energy crisis produced difficulties which resulted in an extra week of Christmas vacation and a cut back in many traditional holiday activities. On return, students were confronted with much reviewing and studying for mid-term exams and a change in school hours, remaining through the month of March.

The beauty of Patrick County after a snowfall is depicted in this wintry scene of surrounding mountains.

Summer Life is Over

School Life

Many students catch up on the happening of their friends in the first days of school.

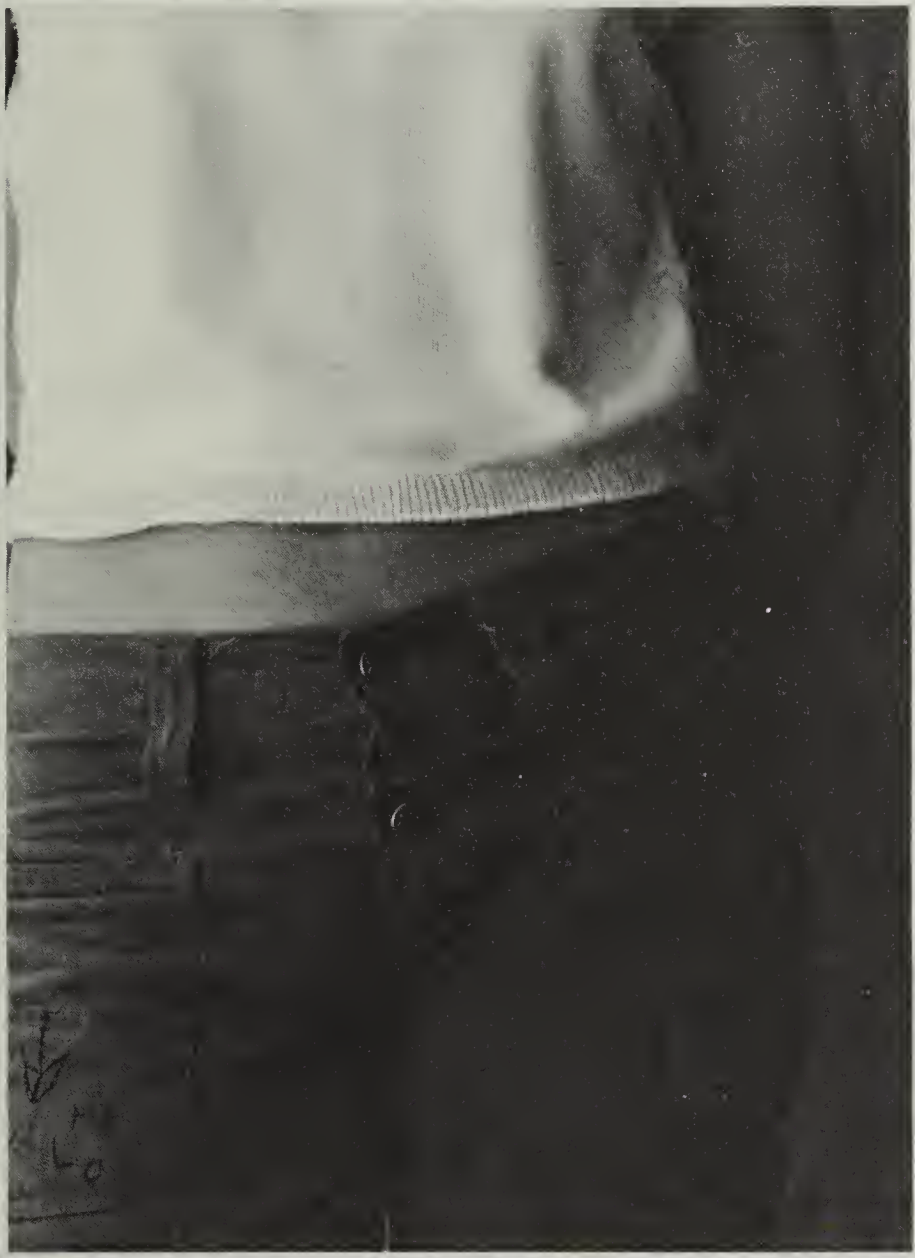

Daydreaming while class is going on, Cathy Turner stares out the window at the brilliant sun.

PCHS students come back to new books, new teachers, new friends, and much new knowledge.

Begins Once More

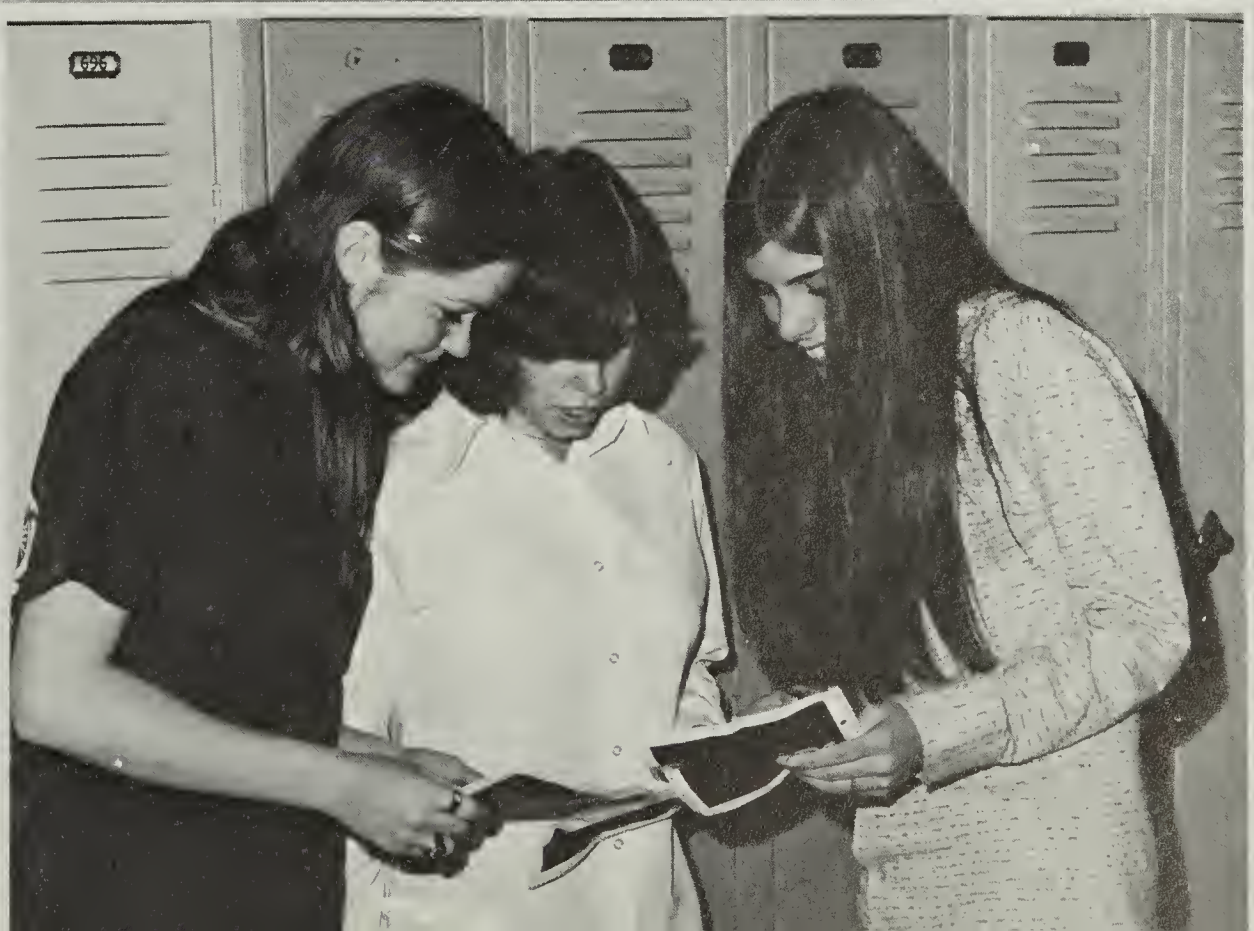

Even though dress code forbids it, many shink and halter tops are worn in the first days of school.

Shortly after school begins Mr. Boswell is there for class pictures.

On the first day of school, Vicki Puckett, Debbie Puckett, and Cheryl Joyce compare class schedules to see if they have classes together.

New books, new teachers, new friends all start off the year at Patrick County High School. Students compare schedules with friends they haven't seen all summer. Many new faces are seen as students rush to classes. A few new eighth graders get lost but with help from an upperclassman or teacher they find their way. The first couple of days are devoted to getting one's books and trying to figure out whether you're going to like this class or not. Changes in teachers are noticed first. Many new teachers are made welcome at PCHS. New books have been issued and then the back-to-school assembly during the first week of school. Now you are in the routine of going to class broken only by assemblies and club meetings and usual expressions are stated, Man will I be glad when school is out?

Cougar Defense Opens Way

Victory

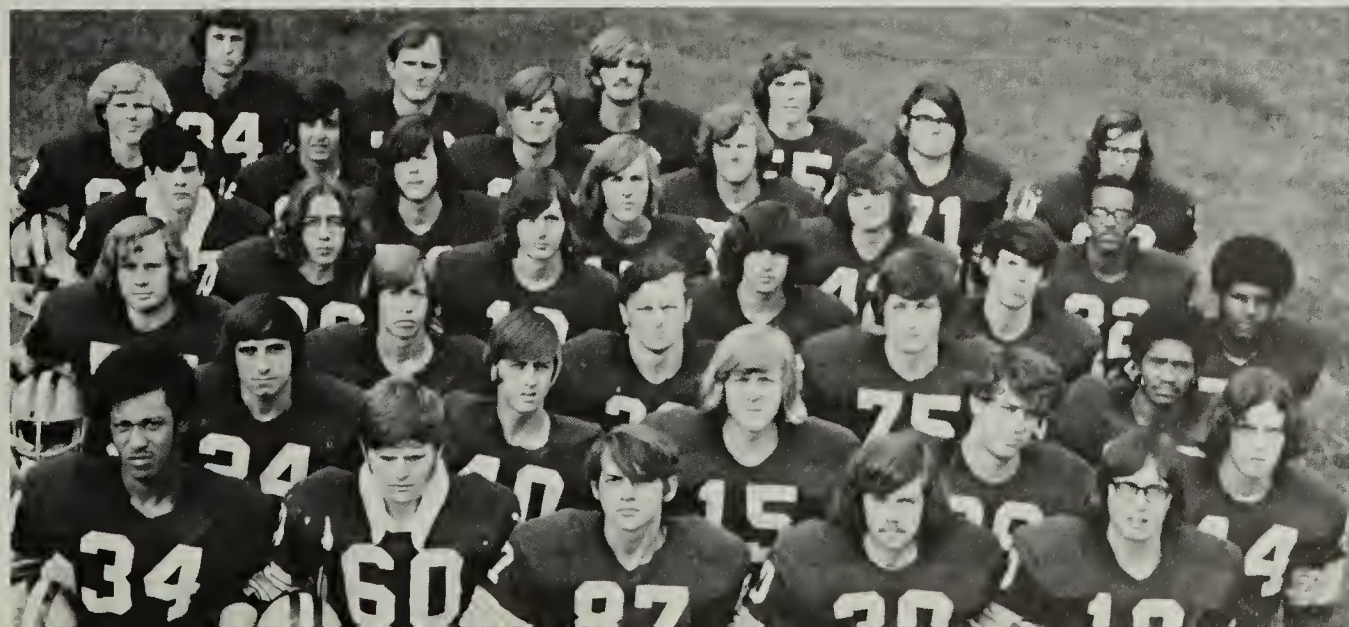

After moving out to a quick 5-1 record, the Cougar 1973 Varsity Football Team fell into a losing streak that ended the season with a 5-5 record.

Patrick opened the season with a big 22-0 romp over North Stokes. The Cougars were led by co-captain Jeff Stultz with 107 yards rushing, and with Jackie Brim scoring two touchdowns.

Defense was the key factor in the opening game as North Stokes gained only 25 yards passing and were minus 9 on the ground.

PCHS faced Bassett the next Friday. The Cougars dominated the game in every manner, but lost due to fumbles. Still, the defense continued to be outstanding. The Bengals picked up only 88 yards on offense. However, late in the game, the Bengals intercepted a pass and ran it back for a touchdown to end Cougar hopes of a victory. With a final score of 12-8, the Cougars came the closest ever to defeating Bassett.

Homecoming week was a busy one for students at PCHS. Elections were held earlier in October for Homecoming representatives and Homecoming Court. On Wednesday, October 24, elections were held throughout the school for Homecoming Queen. That Wednesday was proclaimed by the cheerleaders as "sneaker day" and asked all students to wear sneakers. Thursday, October 25 was designated Green and Gold Day. Students were asked to wear some form of green and gold. A Bonfire was held that evening at the fairground, sponsored by the Jaycees. A large crowd attended to show their Cougar spirit. The Marching Cougar Band was there to add to the excitement. The end came with the cheerleaders forming a victory circle. Friday, Homecoming Day, was dubbed "sock day". Students wore a sock on one hand to symbolize "sock it to F. C."

Half-time at the game, a procession of Corvettes carried the Homecoming Court and representatives to the field. Karan Belcher was then announced the winner and was crowned by Principal James K. Hiatt.

This year's Corvette drivers for the Homecoming Court are Kenneth Lowson, Petie Slote, Lindo Hylton, George Horbour, Jimmy Hoyle, and Mrs. Joyce Hall.

Homecoming Brings Back

The band for the Homecoming Dance, The Underground, really spurred the students spirit with their music.

The students of PCHS beat the glum mood of a defeat at Homecoming by dancing to the music of the Underground.

The Homecoming dance was held on October 26, 1973 in the Patrick County High School cafeteria. Many students had left the game early to come to the dance and were a little surprised when they were told that the Fiel-dale-Collinsville Cavaliers had defeated the Patrick County Cougars in their Homecoming game. Many glum faces were seen, but as the beat of the music from the Underground deepened, the Homecoming Dance for 1973 turned out to be the most successful dance ever held at PCHS.

Many students relax after strenuous dancing.

P.C.H.S. Alumni

For a team that had a 5-5 season, Patrick County placed more than its share of players on the two area post season honor squads.

Making the All-Martinsville Bulletin Country's team were eight Cougar players; two made the squad at two positions.

Leading the selections were Chris Corbett and Jeff Stultz. Corbett was the first team center while Stultz was one of the top squad's linebackers. Corbett captured honorable mention defensive tackle and Stultz got on the same team as a running back.

Jackie Brim and Billy Corns were second team All-BC. Corns was the pick at one of the tackles on offense and Brim was selected as a defensive back.

Four other players were spotlighted for the play in 1973. Making the honorable mention offense were end Mike Cooper and tackle David Tatum. On the third team defense, PCHS was represented by Steve Hill and Donny Rakes.

The Piedmont District's head coaches varied on many of the All-BC's picks on their annual poll of outstanding players.

Corbett made both first team offense and defense and was joined on offense by Corns. Stultz paced the second squad with recognition of both teams. Defensive backs Brim and Rakes also were on the squad.

Rounding out the honor squad were Cooper and Hill with honorable mention spots. Cooper was named as an offensive end while Hill was a selection on defense.

Preparing to block, Terry Spangler moves into position as . . .

The season had an ironic end for the Cougars, with a shivering loss at Dan River. A season that started out with so much hope and excitement as the Cougars were on top, ended on a freezing night with only a handful of spectators. The Cougars had started out so hot, and ended so cold.

COUGAR BAND AND MAJORETTES

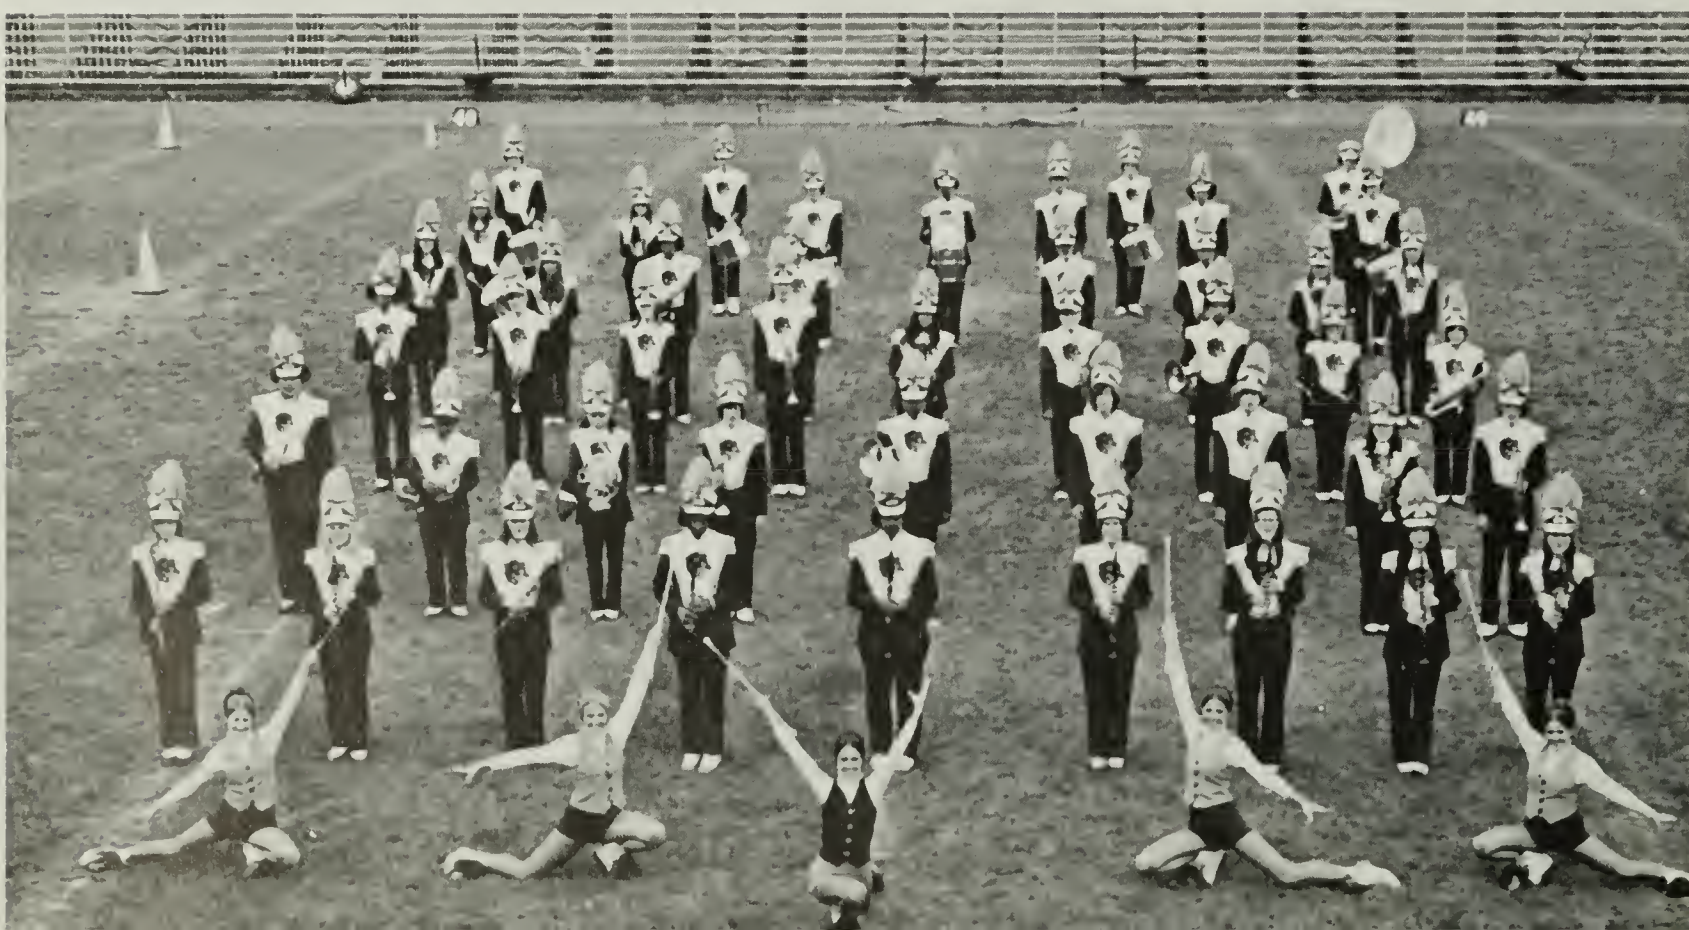

Majorettes Jo Anne Vipperman and Terri Williams fulfill a majorette requirement by playing clarinet with the Cougar Band.

The Patrick County High School Marching Cougar Band has been very active this year. They participated in four local parades — South Boston, Mt. Airy, Lord's Acre and the Stuart Christmas Parade. They also performed at half time at home football games. There has been great improvement in the band, with no need for after school practices. They used college type shows with many new patterns and motions to give variety to their performances. Some of the newer ones were — Hot Dog, Peanut, Pinwheels, Contrasting Circles and Flowing Diamond.

Why Does

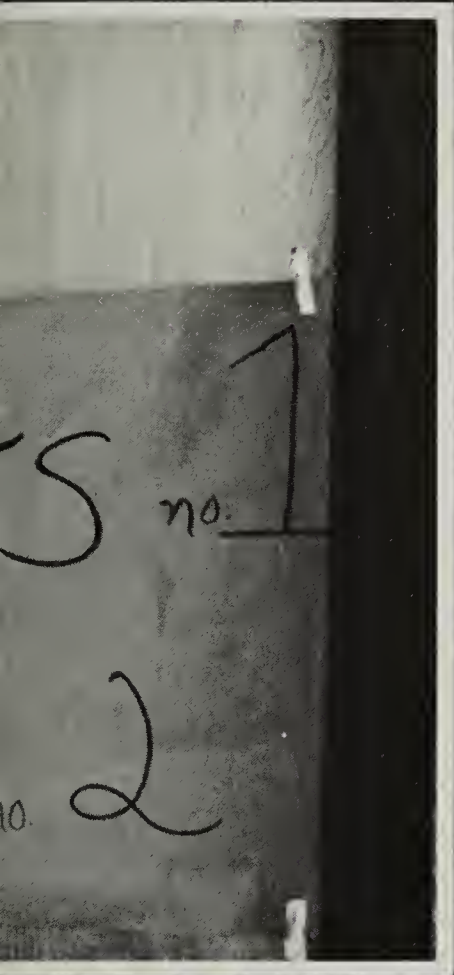

"Cougars no. 1, can't be no. 2" is just an example of the many posters put up by Cheerleaders to help booster school spirit.

The scoreboard shows a victory for Patrick County, with the Cougars 59 and the Rustburg Red Devils 55.

An FC Cavalier is "burned at the stake," symbolic of how the Cougars are going to really burn the Cavs in the PC Homecoming.

A Crowd Cheer? Victory

Tension. The Cougars had been leading the Trojans throughout the game; then with only a short while left, Carver makes a touchdown. The score is 16-14, Cougar's favor. Thirteen seconds are left in the game; Carver sets up a two-point conversion play that will tie the game if successful. Talmadge Tanks gets the ball and runs; it seems that he can't be stopped. Suddenly, out of nowhere, Cougar Steve Hill appears and stops Tanks. The game is won; the crowd is ecstatic.

Why does a crowd cheer? Is it victory, the thrill of being no. 1? How about the cheerleaders? The concession stand? The '74 Archive staff became curious as to why a crowd does cheer, and took a survey among typical PCHS students. Answers varied from a winning team to topless cheerleaders. Yet the most popular answer was one word: Victory.

But why does a crowd stand and cheer when the team is playing an exceptionally good game; yet sits and offers no word of encouragement when the same team is down by 15 or more points?

Do the men on the team only need boosts when victory is in sight? Or do they need encouragement more, when, despite sweat and blood they can't seem to top their opponents?

It seems ironic that no one believes in the poem "Alumnus Football" by Grantland Rice. In the poem, the "One Great Scorer" remarks it is "not that you won or lost — but how you played the game" that counts. If people really believed this, then there would be crowds yelling and cheering all the time, not just when the Cougars are winning.

Perhaps the tension and excitement of a good game provides the stimulus needed to set a spark starting the fire of spirit in the spectators. But perhaps, also, in a game when it looks as though the Cougars will lose, the undying faith and spirit of the spectators would provide the stimulus needed to set the team on fire and send them on a hot winning streak.

Fiery spirit is displayed by the Cougar fans at the bonfire.

Victory! It shows on every face.

Eight Cougars Receive Football Recognition

Following the conclusion of football season comes the annual all-star teams giving recognition to outstanding varsity football players of the past season.

Three such teams were chosen in this area. Two of these, are chosen by sports writers of Martinsville Bulletin and Roanoke Times, the other is a team selected by coaches in the Piedmont District.

Although the Cougars posted a 5-5 record, they had more than their share of players to receive honors for their efforts on the Football field.

The squad chosen by The Roanoke Times included four players from PCHS.

Eight Cougars were selected for The Bulletin's "All-Bulletin Country" team. This squad, just like the one picked by the Times, centers mainly around the sport writers voting for the team. The only difference in these two teams is that The Bulletin also allows coaches to vote.

The Piedmont District's head football coaches named seven Cougars for recognition.

Earning recognition from any or all of these honor teams is a note-worthy achievement for the Cougars.

Cougars making the Roanoke Times Land are Chris Corbett, Jackie Brim, Billy Corns, and Jeff Stultz.

All Piedmont District members are Mike Cooper, Steve Hill, Jeff Stultz, Donnie Rakes, Billy Corns, Jackie Brim, and Chris Corbett.

In beating Drewry Mason, a Spartan runner gets smothered by six PCHS players. Defense was a key factor in the J.V. Cougars' success this season.

Preparing to start a contest, Cougar players Boaty Hudgins (80) and Wendell Handy (22) run on to the field to get ready for the kick-off.

Patrick County High's J.V. Football team compiled the best win-loss record ever for a J.V. football squad at PCHS. In running up a 3-3-1 mark, the Cougars posted impressive wins over Bassett, Drewry Mason, and G.W. Carver. The victories over Bassett and DM represent the first time a Cougar pigskin team has defeated these two foes.

Head coach Richard Tobler credits defense as the key factor in the club's success. Also, the record is misleading because the entire season was marred by injuries which came in bunches. This, more than anything else kept PCHS from recording a better fall record.

Assistant coach Mike McHone's defense was led by the great playing of freshman middle guard Ricky Hughes; he was the main strength of the stingy Cougar defense. The defensive unit kept Patrick in every contest and gave up no more than 14 points in any outing. PCHS opponents scored at a rate of only 7 points a game.

J.V. Football Scoreboard
PCHS	12	Carver	0
PCHS	6	Laurel Park	6
PCHS	13	Bassett	10
PCHS	0	Bassett	6
PCHS	0	F-C	6
PCHS	6	Carver	14
PCHS	14	Drewry Mason	6

Catching an important pass, Blaine Gilley moves PCHS into scoring position by hauling in a Tommy Burnette pass against Drewry Mason. The Cougars went on to win 14-6.

Injuries Hinder '73 — J.V.'s

On offense, Coach Tobler was blessed with two equally talented quarterbacks. PC could go with either Tommy Burnette or Phil Hunt at this key position and either could do an outstanding job.

The offensive line of center Eddie Burnette, guards Hughes and Steve Sheppard and tackles Steve Griffin and James Reynolds made the running game very effective. These five linemen were the unsung heroes of the offense and no matter who ran the ball, there was plenty of room for them to go through.

Running the ball were Tim Burkhardt, Don Hairston, Wendell Handy, Lee Lawson, Ronnie Jefferson, and Martin Clark.

Key injuries on the offense were Burkhardt, Hairston, and Hunt. This hurt the unit, but backup players came in and did a very capable job.

Patrick County beat Bassett September 27, 13-10 at home. The offense was minus running backs Burkhardt and Hairston and quarterback Hunt.

However, substitute Lawson scored on a one yard run and Burnette filled in for the injured Hunt by firing a 25 yard TD pass to Blaine Gilley to seal the win.

In the season finale, the Cougars played host to the Spartans of DM and turned in their finest game with a 14-6 triumph.

On Patrick's first possession of the night, it marched all the way downfield for a touchdown. Burkhardt capped the drive with a 30 yard reverse.

Late in the contest with the score knotted at 6-6, PCHS moved down the gridiron and looked destined to score. But, Hunt was injured and had to be carried from the field with a back ailment.

Burnette replaced him and continued the drive until Martin Clark scored the winning touchdown with 1:35 left in the game. Clark scored the clincher from one yard out and behind a superb block by Steve Griffin.

This game capped a good year for the J.V. Cougars. They showed a lot of promise for the future and beat two arch-rivals.

Pondering the 1973 season, J.V. coaches Mr. Tobler and Mr. McHone discuss their upcoming opponent.

Baby Cougars' Season Unsuccessful

Hindered by several handicaps, the 8th grade football team came off with a 0-8 season. Only a handful of players tried out for the team, and this presented Coach Nelson McConnell with one of his largest headaches. Having so few men, most of the team was forced to play the entire game, wearing out the team. Also, by being such a small team, there was little extra talent that could be depended on to win games.

With all of these obstacles against them, the squad was never able to move the ball on offense. This resulted in PCHS being held scoreless the entire fall.

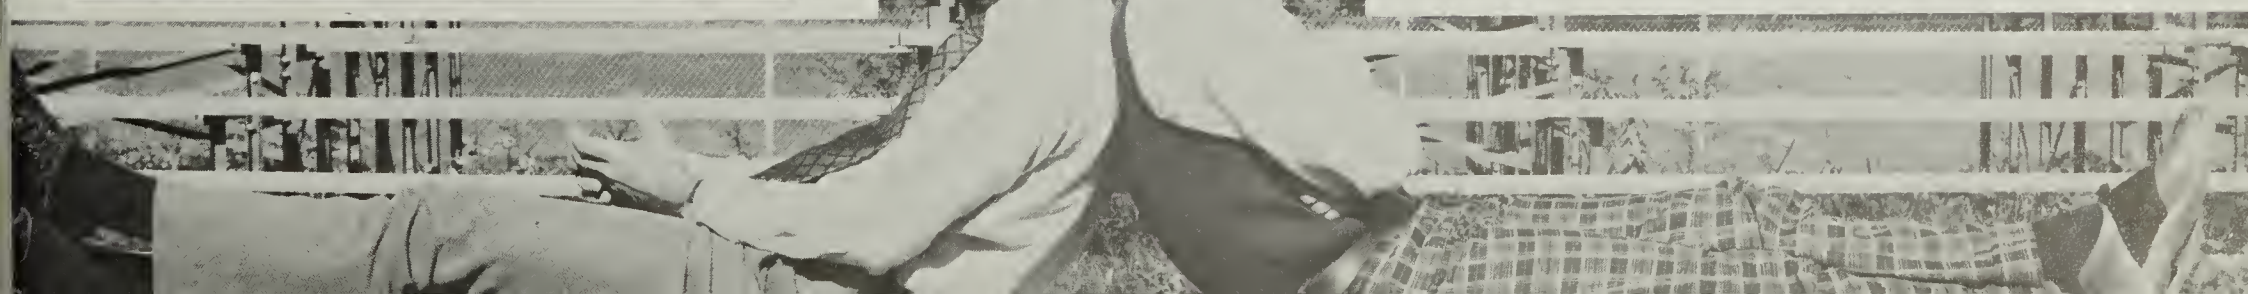

Should anyone be recognized for his playing, it would be Sandy Morse, says Coach McConnell. Morse, like most of the other players, played both offense and defense. On offense he was a tailback and he doubled as a linebacker on defense.

Both coaches McConnell and Kapher feel that once the Baby Cougars have gained more experience, they will have better seasons in the future.

Trying to block a Cavalier, Sandy Morse attempts to give protection for the quarterback.

Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, alias Mr. McConnell and Mr. Kapher take time out to relax after a long and unfruitful season for the Baby Cougars.

Doing toe touches, Stanley Dunkley and Kenny Pullins limber up before running through their afternoon practice.

PC Represented by Cross

Running through the woods, Danny Hairston leads his Laurel Park opponents.

The Patrick County High School Cross-Country Team ended its second season with a larger and stronger squad than the previous year. The 12 boys showed a great deal of enthusiasm and determination throughout the season. Coach Biggs was pleased with the improvement made by each individual. He feels that the boys will be even better next year and he is looking forward to the '74 season.

Although the Cougar squad did not place first in any meet, all the boys improved throughout the year. Each member of the squad had decreased his time by the end of the season. Coach Biggs feels the squad should be placing first in some meets next year if the boys continue to improve as they did during the '73 season. Several of the boys traveled to the State Meet in Williamsburg. Although they did not win any meets, the boys gained the experience of running against some strong squads throughout the state. Coach Biggs feels that the opportunity to attend the state meet will give each of the boys something to work for next season.

Grouped together, members of the Cross Country Team run through their regular afternoon workout.

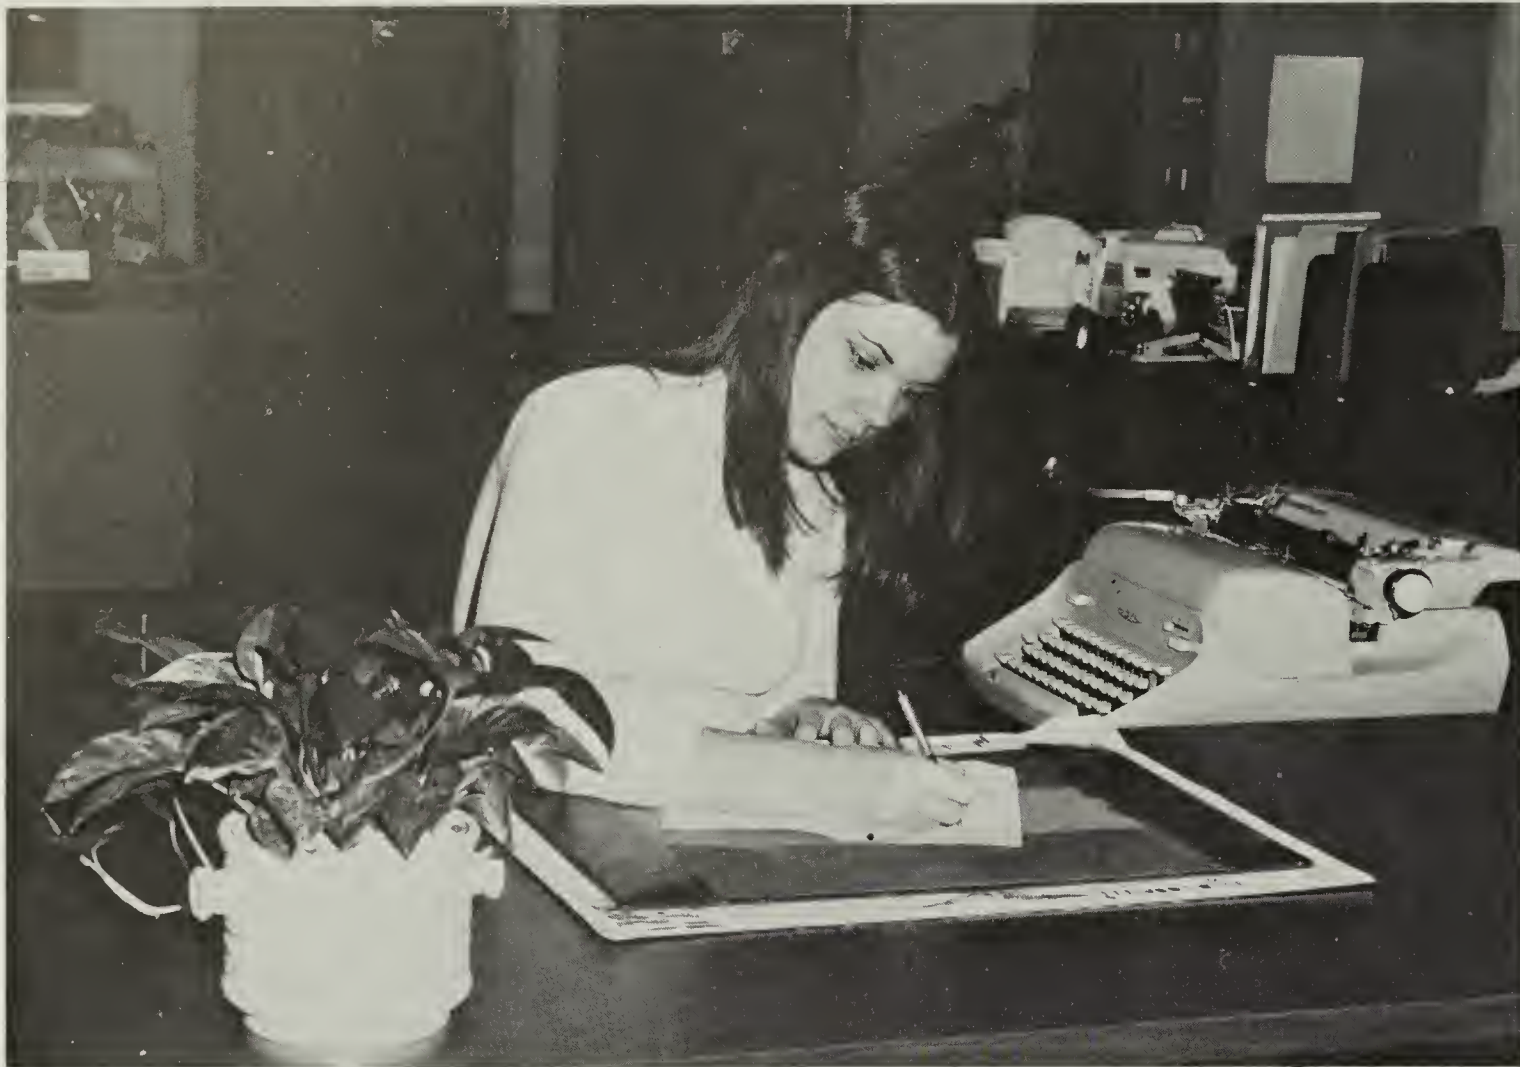

PC runners Danny Hairston and Jeff Handy take time out of practice to tell jokes.

DAR Good Citizen

Working on her test for DAR, Frances Hunt concentrates on American History.

Mary Frances Hunt was chosen DAR Good Citizen at PCHS for the 1973-74 school year. She was nominated by members of the senior class and then the faculty made the final decision. The qualities on which she was chosen were as follows: dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

Her school activities include 2nd Vice-President Spanish Club, Beta Club, Annual Staff, working at the R. J. Reynolds Memorial Hospital after school and is active in her church. Mary Frances is planning to attend Limestone College next year. This award is given annually by the Col. Abram Penn Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Who's Who

The Who's Who program is set up to acknowledge the students who have demonstrated leadership in the fields of academics, athletics, extra-curricular activities and community service. The students names were submitted by the teachers and the final decision was made with the help of the principal. Approximately 18,000 schools take part in the program. These students will also appear in the 1974 edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Jane Cole; Future Home Leader

The Betty Crocker, Future Home Leader award was given to Jane Cole for the year 1974. She was selected from the Senior class who took a written knowledge and attitude test. Jane will receive a specially designed award from General Mills, sponsor of the annual education program. She is now eligible for state and national honors. Science Research Associates chose the winner.

These students of PCHS were chosen by the Society of Outstanding American High School Students after their names were submitted by the guidance counselor for acceptance. The selection was based on scholastic achievement, leadership, and civic contribution. The students selected as members of the society will be competing with other members for more than one half million dollars in scholarship grants. The 1974 edition of OAHSS, which is distributed nationally to colleges and corporations, will feature biographies of these students.

Christmas Dance Success

An alumni from 1973, Phil Agee and date, Ann Nester, relax between dances.

The Christmas dance had a large turnout even with the energy shortage. Students from all grade levels enjoyed the dance.

During intermission, Sammy Rorrer and Karen Conner have a chance to talk.

Shortages, gas shortage, energy shortage and money shortage. Because of these shortages many thought the Christmas Dance would not be held, a total of thirteen tickets had been sold on December 15, 1973. The Christmas dance was held in the Patrick County High School cafeteria and to the surprise of everyone there was a large turnout. In the past the dance began at 8 p.m. and ended at midnight, but due to the energy crisis, the dance closed at 11:30 p.m. The Randolph Brothers, an eight member all black band from Roanoke provided entertainment for the Christmas Dance. The dance was enjoyed by everyone.

The Randolph Brothers and their female vocalist performed many of the students favorite songs at the Christmas Dance.

At the end of the play, student body helped the cast of "Song of Glory" sing Christmas Carols.

The speech and drama classes at Patrick County High School presented the play "Song of Glory" on December 14, 1973. The question "What does Christmas mean to You?" was the basis of the play. This question was asked to many people and the answer dealt with the natural things that you receive at Christmas. The last answer made the people realize the real meaning of Christmas, the birth of Christ. The play "Song of Glory" was thoroughly enjoyed by students and faculty.

"What does Christmas mean to you?" asks Sue Ann Ehmann in her interview with store front Santa Claus.

Song of Glory

The Angel of the cast, Pam Hylton, tells the real meaning of Christmas. The birth of Christ.

Activities throughout

The Beta Club from PCHS had the winning float in the Christmas Parade.

Economizing on gas, Phillip Hubbard and Stanley Fain ride their bikes.

The Cheerleaders from PCHS show they have school spirit even in the cold, damp weather at Christmas.

Patrick County High School let out a week early for Christmas holidays because of snow. The annual door contest could not be held, only one door was completed. Many thought other Christmas activities would be postponed but the annual Christmas Parade and teachers banquet went on without postponement. These activities were thoroughly enjoyed by Patrick Countians.

An attraction for Patrick Countians is the Marching Cougar Band and Majorettes from Patrick County High School.

the Christmas Holidays

Snow marred the door contest at P.C.H.S., the only door completed was the art room door with the theme "Cat Claus is Coming to Town."

Victory Over

For the first time in PC varsity Basketball history, the Cougars defeated the Bassett Bengals. The Cougars controlled the entire game, which ended with a score of 54-41. Another game that displayed Cougar playing ability was that against Drewry Mason. After a grueling 4 quarters and 3 overtimes, the Spartans won 60-58. Both teams had previously averaged topping the Cougars by 15 points.

Win Over F-C

Patrick County High's 1973-74 edition of the Varsity Basketball Cougars doubled its previous high in wins by going 8-13. The squad also captured a Piedmont District Tournament spot by upsetting Fieldale-Collinsville in the last regular season contest.

Mike Rorrer paced the team in the point column by averaging 10.9 points per game. However, he was closely followed by three others. Ronald Younger averaged 9.7 points while Jackie Brim and Kenny Martin finished with just under nine points a game. Both Brim and Martin averaged 8.8 points per game.

The Cougars battled to a 5-9 record with nearly all of the year completed. However, they pulled off back-to-back upsets of Tunstall (64-63) and Dan River (65-58 in three overtimes) to get back into the district race.

After the Dan River win, the squad fell on hard times again as Chatham beat them 84-82 at the buzzer. Two more losses resulted before Patrick County entered its final contest in a three way tie for last place. In the Piedmont District, the last place club does not compete in the post-season tournament. Still in the cellar, the Cougars traveled to play the arch-rival Fieldale-Collinsville. Coach Diggs' boys played a very inspired game and downed the Cavaliers 60-58 to assure them of a play-off position.

Second place G.W. Carver was the Cougar's opponent in the opening round and deflated the Green and the Gold quest for a championship by winning 78-62. Jackie Brim led PCHS in scoring in the game with 11 points to end the Varsity career for nine seniors. Having as many seniors on this year's team as they did, the Cougars will have a huge rebuilding job for next season.

Puts Cougars in Tournament

Shooting a freethrow against Carver, Ronald Younger scores.

After tryouts last spring, the new varsity cheerleaders began preparations for the 1973-74 seasons. Five cheerleaders represented PCHS at cheer camp at Ferrum. These girls returned home full of enthusiasm and new ideas; they then began practicing twice a week.

To earn money for uniforms and favors, they held a bake sale and sold bulletin boards. The squad also sold ads for duffle bags.

Before each game, the cheerleaders presented favors to the varsity team with words of luck and spirit. The cheering squad also purchased duffle bags for members of the varsity teams.

Homecoming week, the cheerleaders used symbols to build school spirit and enthusiasm; each day of the week a new symbol was used. The finale of the week was a bonfire on Thursday night, and the Homecoming game and dance on Friday.

Attempting to enrich school spirit, the varsity cheering squad found a spirited girl named Pam Hylton to be PC Cougar, the new school mascot.

"Cougars no. 1" yells Brenda Hoyle, "Can't be no. 2".

PC Cougar, Pam Hylton, is engrossed in the game.

Twins, Karan and Sharan Belcher, cheer for the Cougars side by side.

"Go mighty Cougars!" cry Anne Smith, Melanie Hazlewood, and Brenda Hoyle.

During the PCHS Homecoming game, Sue Ann Ehmann, Nancy Wilds, and Debra Reid try to boost School spirit.

Before the game, Debra Reid joins the other cheerleaders in a practice of their pom pom routine.

Inconsistency Hinders

Coach Mike McHone's J.V. Basketball team was a hard luck story this season. They won against the better teams, but fell to several of the weaker ones.

The J.V. coach is puzzled by his team's play. "When we played well, we beat the good teams, but then we play bad and lose to the bad teams. We had little consistency."

Inconsistency was the key to Patrick going 7-13 this season. Coach McHone added, "With a little luck and if we scored 50 points a game, we could have been 16-4."

Good team defense kept Patrick County in every game. Coach McHone considers it to have been good in every game except the two contests with Chatham.

On offense, the Cougars were paced by freshman Don Hairston. He was the top scorer and rebounder for the J.V.'s.

Tim Burkhardt, Blaine Gilley, Dillard Hatcher, Phil Hunt, and Donny Rakes all scored in double figures on several occasions.

However, the squad never had a consistent high scorer in every game. Coach McHone stated, "One person would be outstanding one game and another in the next."

The high spot the PC J.V.'s experienced was when they upset the top team in the Piedmont District. Dan River entered the contest 13-1, but the Cougars were ready and held leads of 11 points for most of the second half. Patrick County finally breezed to a ten point triumph.

The '73-'74 J.V. team will probably compile most of next year's Varsity squad but will have to develop more consistency to win regularly, states Coach McHone.

Leading the fast-break, Phil Hunt moves the ball quickly down court to set up a teammate for an easy shot.

Ninth Graders Post

Unable to see over Winifred Reid (35) and Tommy Burnette, this Spartan can't pass over these two defenders.

The PCHS Ninth Grade Basketball team posted an outstanding 10-2 record which earned them first place in the district. Coach Tobler cites good team play and hustle as the main factors in his team's fine success.

Coach Tobler also expresses the idea that this squad is possibly even better than last year's team which rolled to a 9-1 mark.

The Ninth Graders were led by Winifred Reid who averaged 19 points a game, the highest scoring average of any player on the school's four teams.

"They were pretty consistent all year," added Coach Tobler. "As a whole, this

Outstanding Season

Keeping his man from shooting, Dennis Younger forces an F-C player to pass.

Up in the air by himself, Martin Clark drives for a basket.

Behind Reid in the point column were Ronald Rorrer and Jerome Simmons; both held 7 point averages.

Good rebounding was another key in their success. Tommy Burnette, Mark Goard, Winifred Reid, Ronald Rorrer, Jerome Simmons, Keith Staples, and Robert Whitlow led the Cougar control of the boards.

The Freshman team averaged 47 points a game and gave up only 30 points a contest.

In hitting the 60 point barrier three times this season, the biggest Cougar win was probably at Laurel Park. The Lancers entered that contest undefeated at home. PCHS put an end to the winning streak by burying the Lancers 60-34 and lock up a district title.

Bench Strength Leads 8th

While teammates Daryl Younger (35) and Ronald Hubbard (22) helplessly watch the flight of the ball, John Clanton shoots a foul shot.

Eluding one defender, Daryl Younger drives goalward...

Coach Grandy Biggs chose 19 boys to comprise this season's Eighth Grade team, all of whom contributed to the team. Such depth allowed the baby Cougars to go 10-2 for the best record ever by an Eighth Grade squad at PCHS. This superb record gave them at least a tie for first place in the district.

Although the team was very balanced, Daryl Younger emerged as the leading scorer. Behind him was John Clanton. Either of the two led the Cougar scoring in almost every game.

As the season progressed, Coach Biggs went more to his bench with plenty of confidence in their ability. Having such a large team gave him several combinations of players that could work well together.

Using liberal substitution also gave each boy playing experience which should prepare them for even more action in their future years at PCHS.

Shooting one-handed, Freddie Pike hits a free throw for the baby Cougars.

Out of 57 girls trying out in September, only 10 made the J.V. Cheerleading squad. Four freshmen and six sophomores were chosen to cheer for the '73-'74 seasons.

The girls practiced Mondays and Wednesdays to learn new cheers, chants, and pom pom routines. Working with them this year as a sponsor was Miss Mary Jane Leisfield. The hard work and many hours together put forth by the cheerleaders made a closely knit squad.

People...

The people of our school make it what it is. They appear the same from a distance, but when you get closer they become individuals and the school unique. All the students, faculty, and administration add their special qualities to make our school ours. Each person puts something into the melting pot that is called P.C.H.S., and each person must get their own meaning from it. Seen by an outsider the people here may just be people, but to us they are friends that add to us and what we will become.

FOUR MONTHS OF DOUGHNUT SALES SEND MEMBERS TO CONVENTION;

The highlight of this year for the members of the Beta Club was the trip to the convention in Roanoke. Members wishing to attend the convention in March worked hard selling doughnuts to lighten the financial burden. The club also prepared a float for the Stuart Christmas Parade, which placed first in judging.

Other activities for the year included serving as guides, preparing a booth for the spring carnival, and holding the induction service for new members in February.

Beta Member, Hugh Gates, lends his services to help unload donuts during club sales.

FBLA strives to develop competent, aggressive business leadership, to strengthen the confidence of young men and women in themselves and their work; to create more interest and understanding in the intelligent choice of business occupations; to encourage young men and women in the development of individual projects and establishing themselves in business; to encourage young persons to improve the home and community; to participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of business and the community; to develop character, prepare for useful citizenship and foster patriotism; to participate in cooperative efforts, to encourage and practice thrift; to encourage improvement in scholarship and promote school loyalty; to improve and establish standards for entrance into business occupations. Members enter various competitions at the regional and state levels. Fields vary from Parliamentary Law to spelling. To finance the club activities, members sold flavoring. This project was very successful.

YEARBOOK

Selling ads, choosing cover, organizing the book, taking pictures, drawing layouts, writing copy and meeting deadlines seemed to take up most of the time of the 20 members of the annual staff. Many problems were encountered overcome in putting out the largest and most expensive Archive ever. Many new techniques such as special headlines, spot color in both front and back, chronological order of features and sports, and new layouts were used to create the '74 Archive. Writing copy was viewed to be the hardest thing to do, but our sponsor, Mrs. Priscilla Diggs, was always there to give us an encouraging word. Preparation started last year for the '74 edition of the Archive. Members attended workshops and toured the Delmar facilities in Charlotte, North Carolina. Many hours of hard work went into the 1974 Archive, and we the staff and sponsor of your yearbook feel that this edition is a worthy representation of the best year yet at Patrick County High School.

The faculty team is introduced to start the game with GAA team.

Teacher's antics and "uniforms" for the basketball game sponsored by the GAA make it doubly entertaining.

The Girl's Athletic Association chose to sponsor a basketball game between club members and faculty as their money making project. The game was held in early November and approximately $50 was made. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Pendleton and Mrs. Cindy Stovall. Meetings were held after school throughout the year.

Not looking much like an athlete, GAA President, Sharon Belcher, smiles for the photographer.

The intramural and recreational activities offered by GAA provide the greatest opportunity for girls to participate in sports.

LATIN CLUB OFFICERS AND SPONSORS: Pam Hawks, Debbie Coalson, Reporters; Becky Montgomery, Treasurer; Lynn Massie, Parliamentarian; Maurice Redd, President; Jane Cole, V. Pres.; Janice Stewart, Mary Stewart, Historians; Lisa Spradlin, Secretary; Cheryl Guynn, Parliamentarian; Mr. Nolan, Sponsor.

Wondering if they'll ever get to leave, Maurice Redd and John Love.

Latin Club Sponsor Mr. Steve Nolan listens in as John Love shares his plans for the upcoming convention with fellow members.

HOTEL ROANOKE HOSTS

In an effort to get things moving, Mr. Steve Nolen approaches the last few to board the bus with his ever present look of confidence.

The Latin Club helps to promote a more thorough knowledge and greater appreciation of Roman tradition, culture and literature; and to interest other students in the study of the classical art.

Some of the clubs activities included attending the State Convention which proved to be a hectic time with a lot of hard work in order to run a candidate, Lisa Spradin, for State Secretary. On initiation day the new members were required to dress in traditional Roman costumes. For a money making project the club sold candy. The club also sponsored the Annual Foreign Language Week.

With anticipations of leaving on time, Chuck Anderson takes an unobstructed look at the last Stragglers.

The History Club started its year by planning a trip to Richmond in April. The purpose of the club is to promote a better understanding of history among the students at PCHS. This year the club centered its studies on Black History. Its activities included selling magazines and cards for the trip. It also took part in Patrick County Days in May.

History Club President, Peggy Cockerham, listens to suggestions concerning their trip to Richmond.

While in the History Club meeting, Donna Hill takes a break to improve her looks for Ronald Younger.

Working hard to meet the month's deadline, the newspaper staff works on lay-outs.

"It is such a relief to get every thing done!" After the hassle and tension of reaching a deadline, not to mention Mrs. Beeler screaming at everyone, it is indeed a relief to sell the final copy of the paper.

Writing headlines and lead paragraphs, proofing galleys, cropping pictures, pasting up pages and interviewing were only some of the perplexities faced by the Liberator staff as they publish the school paper once a month.

With encouragement from the sponsor, the Liberator won recognition as one of the Four newspapers from the Piedmont Region receiving the gold pen certificate award for its participation in the School Press Project.

The Liberator competed with other newspapers throughout the country at Columbia University in New York for judging on the national level.

LIBERATOR RECOGNIZED AS A REGIONAL WINNER

LIBRARY CLUB'S BOOK FAIR, BIG HIT WITH STUDENT BODY

Library Club members have proven to be a great asset to library staff during study halls. Members from each study hall work in the Library each period. Students assist the library attendants in returning books to their proper places, the checking out of books, keeping magazine room organized, and dusting shelves. These are only a few of duties the library club members are involved in. This club not only works for itself but for the school.

Really getting into Dracula, Susie Cambell takes advantage of the book fair.

LIBRARY CLUB MEMBERS: Sammy Floyd, Lamar Howell, Grayson Montgomery, Rickie Roberson, Glenda Boothe, Susan Hylton, Sandra Vaughn, Carolyn Williams, Mattie Via, Beverly Spangler, Carol Belcher, Julia Conner, Anita Foley, Karen Elgin, Jeannie Ingram, Cathy Mabe, Becky Rorrer, Pamela Wimbush, Leslie Shelor, Tresa Woods, Wayne Penn, Darrell Turner, Ruth Rakes, Rachel Thomas, Betty Massey, Bernice Reynolds, Jeff Handy, Timmy Lewis, Clarkie Wimbush, Dorothy Cobb, Mary Lee Reynolds, Diane Pell, Mary Hamm, Glenda Turner, Janice Wimbush, Kathy Bowman, Debra Reid, Kathy Stacy, Ellen Dehart, Bonnie Cassell, Debbie Hutchens.

Enjoying the wide selection of books, Mrs. Joyce Hall browses through a few of the paperback novels.

Taking care of the money, Mrs. Judy Knight and Mrs. Madeline Dalton help keep the book fair organized.

In the late fall the Library Club sponsored a book fair for the students and teachers of the school. Although this was the first book fair ever held, it proved to be a big success with almost every book being sold. The most popular types of books sold were light mysteries, classics, and comics. The profits from this book fair were used to buy magazine subscriptions and new books for the library.

During Library Club meeting, Mrs. Ellen Hawkins discusses current club affairs.

PEP CLUB POPS PEP

Pep club members encourage other students to show their Cougar spirit.

INTO PEPPLESS PEOPLE

During a Pep Club meeting, Mr. Brim addresses members on various options for their money making project.

A drive toward improvements was the main objective of this year's Pep Club. Much work was put into the formation of new goals. More emphasis was put on increasing school spirit and keeping it alive. Mr. Fred Brim has been working closely with the club in an advisory capacity. They have made many plans for next year, including tryouts for next year's club. As a money making project, Pep members sold stationery.

MONOGRAM CLUB MEMBERS WORK IN CONCESSION STAND DURING GAMES

The Monogram Club, the only athletic club in the school held its meetings on third Thursdays. The club began their activities this year during football season by working in the concession stand during the games. As one of their money-making projects they sold toothbrushes to purchase a whirlpool for the team-room. During basketball season, the Monogram club was in charge of the concession stand during those games also. Throughout the year, for the assemblies held in the gym, the club members served as ushers.

LITERARY STAFF PUBLISHES MAGAZINE

Members of the Literary Staff publish a magazine containing the best of PCHS. Poems, essays and short stories are collected and printed. Members worked hard typing and correcting to publish the '74 edition of the Cougar Crier.

SCA CHOOSES "PRIDE IN

The theme for the '73-'74 school year was "Pride in Patrick". Chosen by the SCA officers, the theme was chosen to promote school spirit. PCHS is engaged in a great number of activities, both in school and in competition with other schools. Everyone is urged to excel in his or her personal event, whether it be academic or athletic.

The SCA sponsored many activities throughout the year. Highlighting the football season was Homecoming. Karen Belcher was elected queen and a dance was held after the game. The annual Christmas dance was the main social event of the holidays. Sponsoring many assemblies through the year, the highlight of the year will be PCHS Days. Many activities are being planned and this year's "Days" are expected to be the best ever.

After hearing the election returns, the newly elected SCA officers realize the work before them.

PATRICK" AS THEME

ROW EIGHT: Eddie Wyatt, Candice Roop, Karen Gunter.

Discussing next year's initiation, new members start planning early.

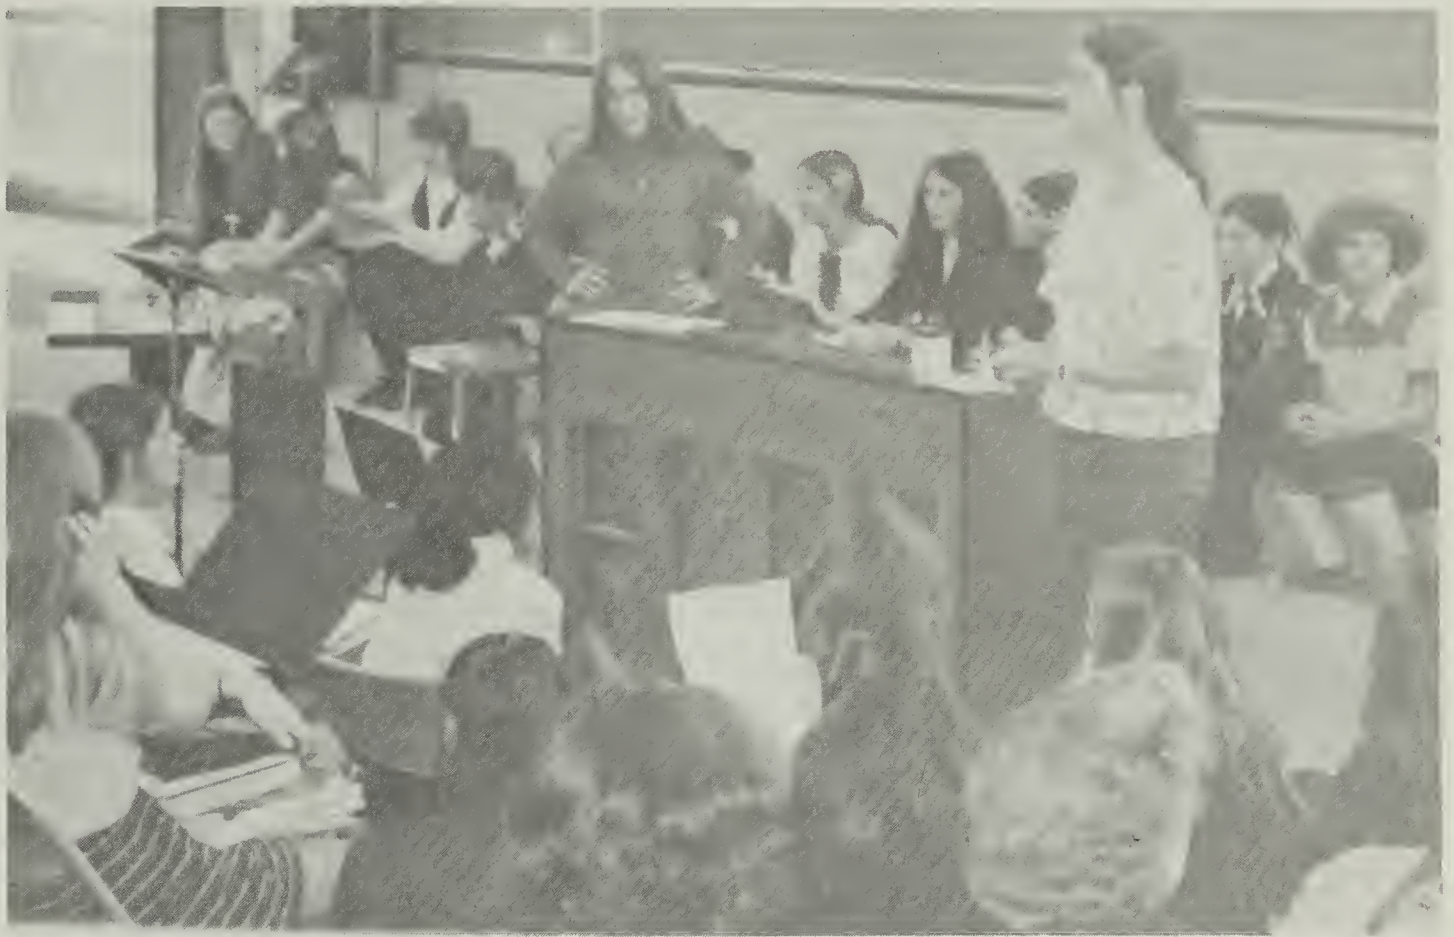

ASPECTS OF SPANISH STUDENTS

The Spanish Club of Patrick County High School found enjoyment in a skating trip in November. For our money making project we conducted a bake sale in Patrick County and in several locations in Martinsville. This project proved to be successful.

Initiation day in November brought all new members to school in costumes of famous Spanish people. The club voted Matt Corbett and Robin Harrell "New members of the year" for their costumes.

Each year the Spanish and Latin clubs participate in Foreign Language Week. One activity being parent's night for the parents of club members to come to school and observe plays and songs performed by students. It is our custom to have a banquet for all club members and special faculty members. Spanish and Latin food is served and skits for entertainment are presented. We also conduct an assembly for the school in foreign languages and decorate the cafeteria with posters of different cultures.

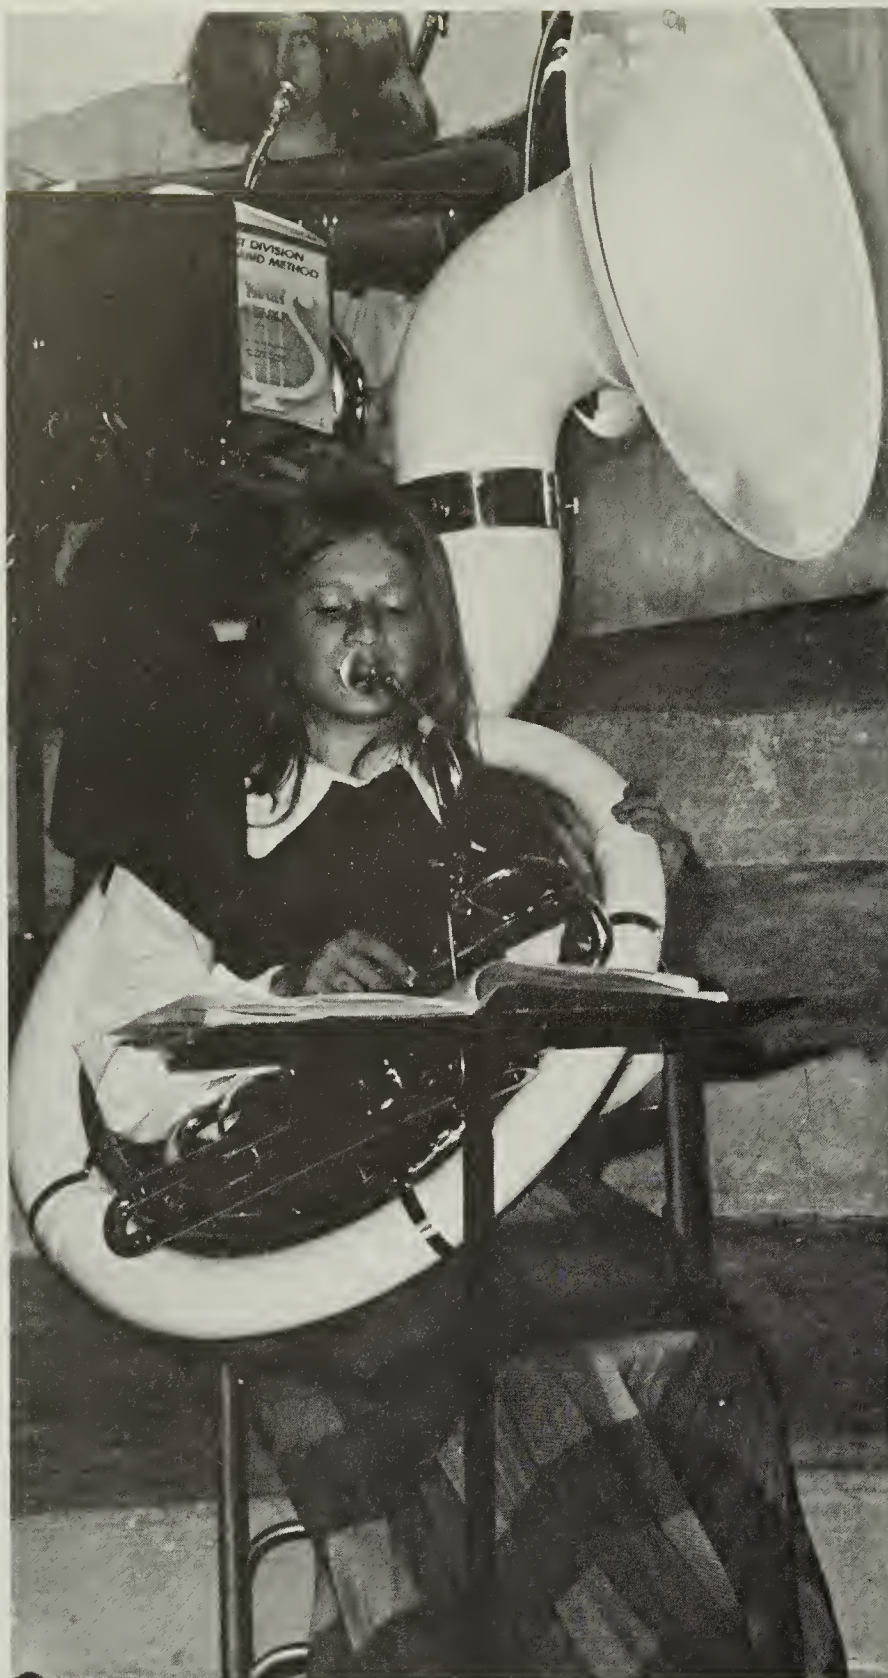

Spanish Club officers, Pam Hylton and Mary Frances Hunt conduct an interesting meeting.

Posing for pictures for the scrap book, new Spanish Club members are glad they are not the only ones dressed up.

Wearing the largest sombrero, this new member gains attention in class.

BEGINNING BAND STUDENTS STRIVE FOR PERFECTION

Students who are in first and second year band classes do not participate in the marching band. They attend classes their first year to learn music and to learn the art of playing their chosen instrument. During the second year, the students play more and begin to work with the other students in order to learn the arts of marching and playing together. As they become more skilled, they advance to their third year into the marching band.

Supplying the music from the tuba section, Marcus Conner and Kim Hazlewood practice daily.

Practicing for the spring concert, Mr. Bill Pons directs the band in playing "Horse".

Taking a break from practice, these band members listen for instructions.

BAND MEMBERS ARE: ROW 1: Lisa Spradlin, Cheryl Gwynn, Terri Williams, Clare Diming, Lisa Epperson, Denise Pace, Pam Collins. ROW 2: Karen Gunter, Debra Hill, Carolyn Handy, Robin Harrell, Donna Gwynn, Donna Herrmann, Jo Ann Vipperman, Shelby Hill, Victor Hairston, Debbie Scott, Jason Spencer, Houston Roberson, Rodger Williams. Four-H is a practical, informal, educational program for boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19. It offers young people many opportunities to enjoy learning new things, develop new interests, make new friends, learn democratic group action, develop leadership ability, and have fun. Through 4-H, boys and girls have opportunities to develop good character traits, wholesome attitudes, leadership qualities, and knowledge and skills in areas of special interest to them.

The PCHS Senior 4-H Club this year is carrying the 4-H Community Resource Development project. Taking the school as their community — discuss what is good about this community — what in their opinion needs improving and most of all understanding why things are the way they are and the procedures that would have to be taken in order to make effective changes in any community.

AUTHORITY

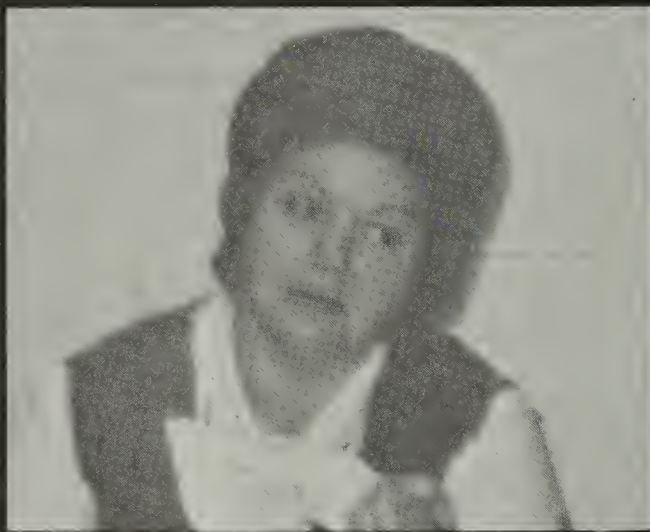

Chaos and confusion would quickly take over in any organization if someone did not have the authority to make and enforce rules. As our country must have someone who has the power to lead, so too our school must have leaders to keep our school running smoothly.

Mr. James K. Hiatt

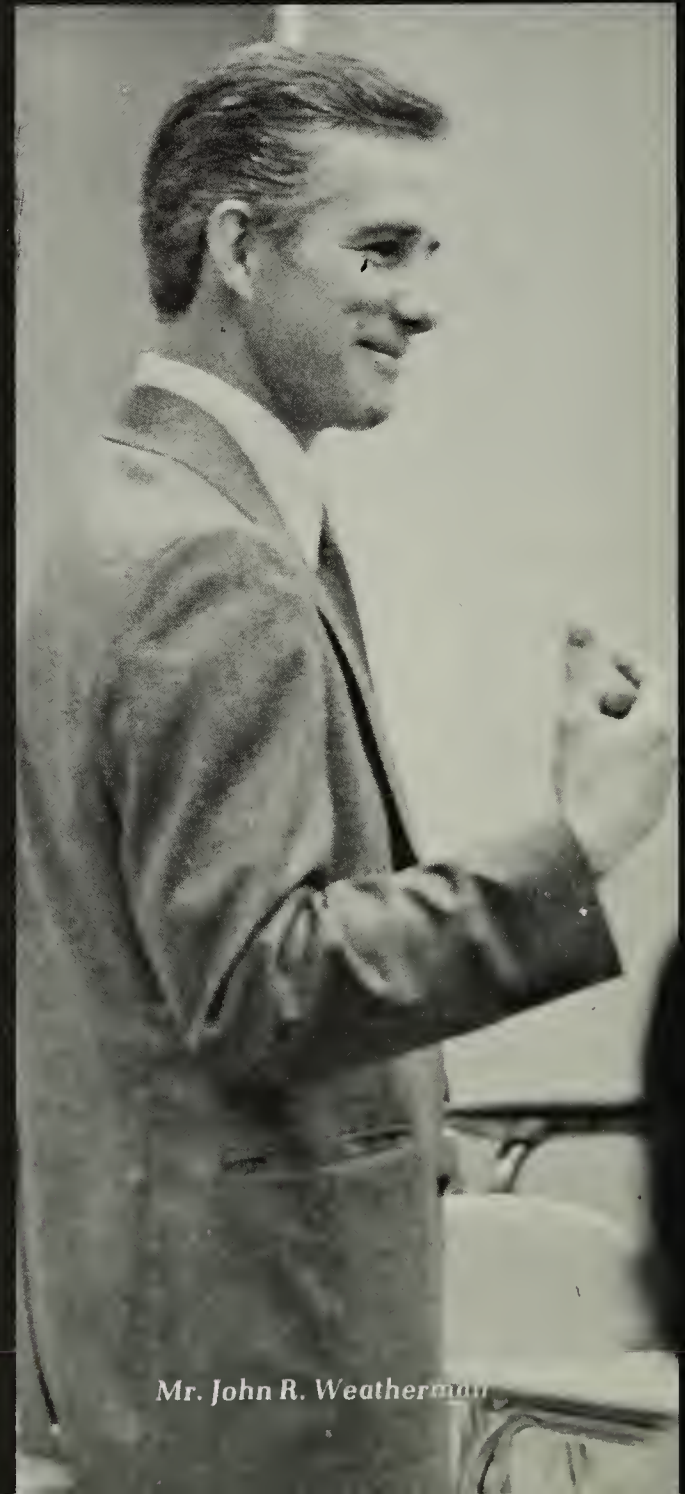

Mrs. Carole F. Mills

Mrs. Jennie S. Rea

Mr. Joe E. Cobbler

Mr. John R. Weatherman

A day starts at 8:30 in the morning for the five dedicated men who make up the Administration. Problems are studied daily which concern school policy and student life. Final decisions are made by Mr. Hiatt, principal. He is advised by four assistant principals — Mr. Cobbler, Director of Student Discipline; Mr. Spencer, Assistant Principal of Patrick County Vocational School; Mr. Weatherman, Director of Instruction; and Mr. Brim, Director of Student Activities. They work hard to keep PCHS running smoothly.

The Guidance Department at PCHS serves every student in the school. The four counselors do everything from helping students with personal problems to sending record transcripts for college applications.

Secretaries at PCHS perform many necessary services. Telephone calls, reports, dictation, and attendance take up most of their time. Our secretaries are: Mrs. Jennie S. Rea, clerical secretary; Mrs. Carole F. Mills, executive secretary; Mrs. Barbara W. Hall, Attendance and Guidance Department secretary.

ORGANIZATION

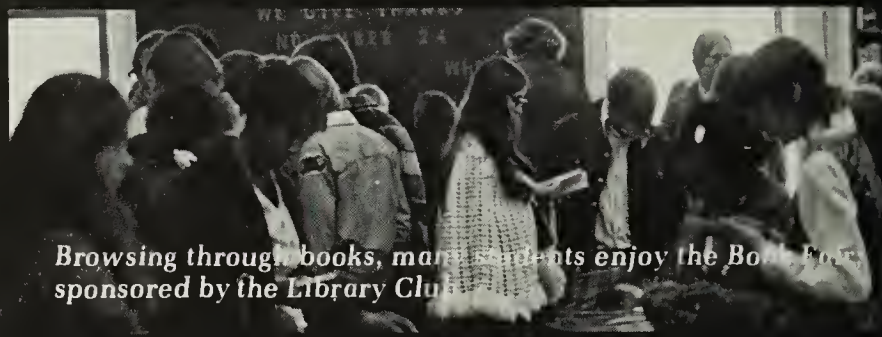

Mrs. Ellen G. Hawkins

Mrs. Judy Knight

Mrs. Madeline B. Dalton

Browsing through books, many students enjoy the Book Fair sponsored by the Library Club.

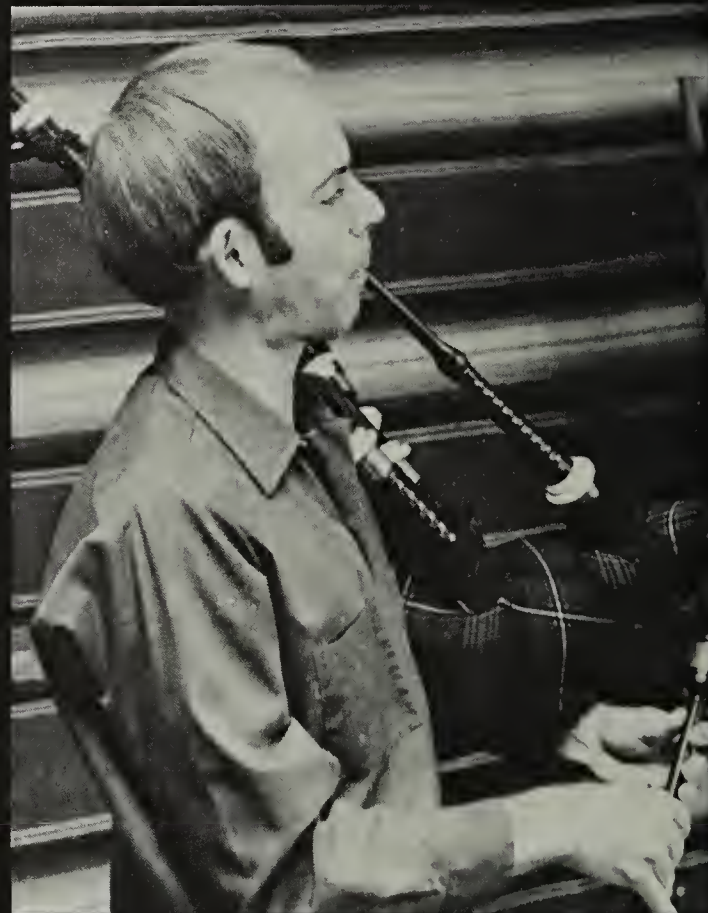

With an ever increasing number of volumes, the PCHS Library continues to serve the students. Mrs. Dalton, head librarian, and Mrs. Hawkins are always glad to help find a certain book for a report. This year they are aided by Mrs. Judy Knight. Mrs. Knight serves as secretary.

The students are served by an efficient book store. Managed by Mrs. Rea, the store is operated by Waynona Tucker, David Jessup, and Mrs. Frances Smith.

There are two firsts for PCHS this year. Mr. Jim Best teaches speech therapy and Mrs. Frances Smith works in the clinic full time. An average of five students use the clinic daily.

Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.

Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.*

You Are What You Eat

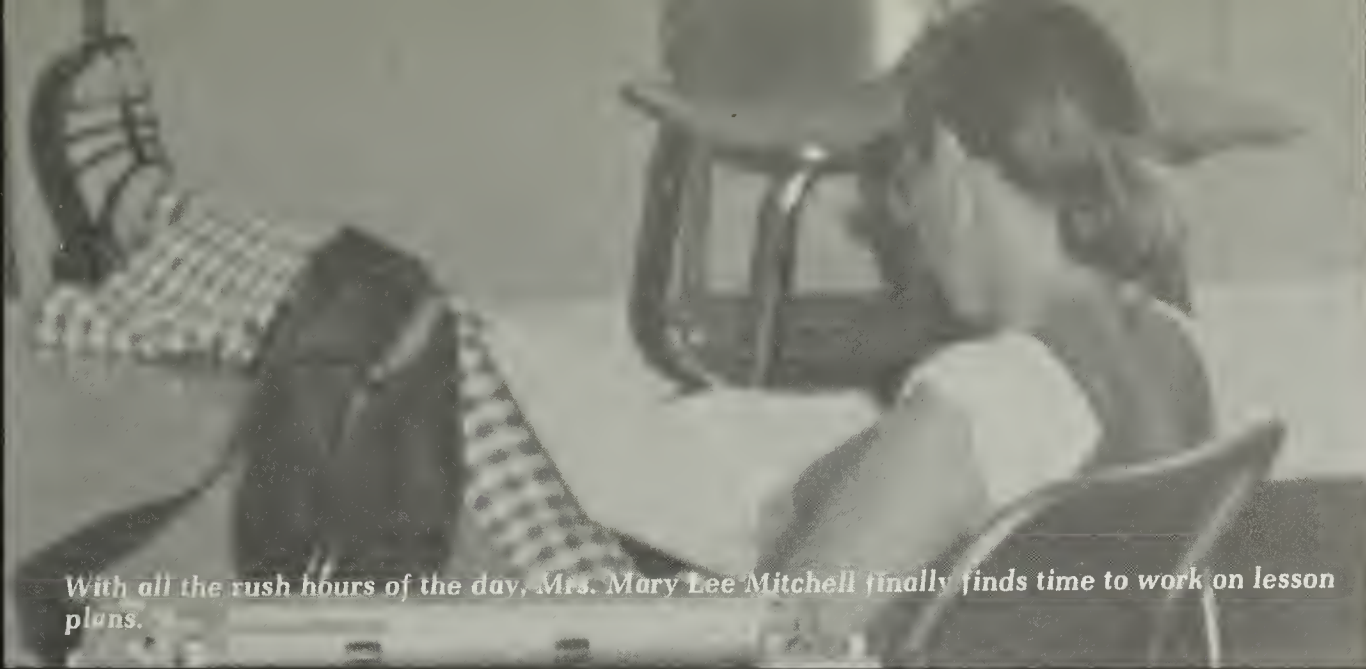

Mrs. Carolyn T. Williams

"You Are What You Eat" was chosen as the theme for National School Lunch Week. The Week's activities included special lunches that were served nationwide, favors for students and faculty, posters and badges worn by the cafeteria staff. Approximately 1000 students were fed each day.

Cafeteria manager, Mrs. Carolyn T. Williams, spends many hours planning well balanced meals and activities such as National School Lunch Week. The cafeteria serves an average of 957 students per day. This figure jumps to over 1100 when the cafeteria serves hot dogs and French fries, the most popular meal served. During the month of October, the cafeteria attained an average of 73% of those students present. Mrs. Williams says this is an exceptionally high average for any high school in the nation.

With all the rush hours of the day, Mrs. Mary Lee Mitchell finally finds time to work on lesson plans.

We, the students of PCHS are lucky in the fact we have such a helpful and dedicated faculty. In addition to their responsibility to their various departments, many teachers serve as coaches, club sponsors, coordinators and sponsors of all extra curricular activities. Without their hard work, PCHS would not be one of the top high schools in the state in the department of Student Activities.

Departments Work Together; Faculty Aids Students

As part of her daily routine, Mrs. Jane Smith is always ready to be of any assistance to her students.

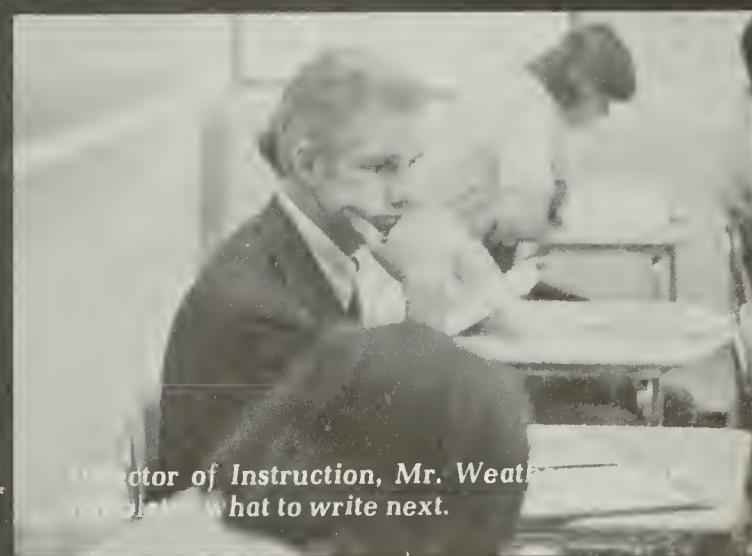

Auto Mechanics class works to solve any problem that comes before them.

Under the direction of Mr. John Weatherman, the faculty of PCHS is always finding new ways to make education more meaningful. The faculty of sixty is divided into thirteen departments. Each of these departments serves a specific role in the make-up of our school. The English department, the largest, serves all 1324 students. Each department is coordinated by a Department chairman. The chairmen are: Library-Audio-Visual — Mrs. Madeline B. Dalton; Mathematics — Mrs. Frances P. Underwood; English — Mrs. Polly R. Tatum; Foreign Language — (Sub-Department of English); Social Studies — Mrs. Claudette Thompson; Science — Mrs. Janice Reynolds; Fine Arts — Mr. Bill Pons; Physical Education — Mrs. Cynthia Stovall; Business — Mrs. Jessie A. Vernon; Home Ec. — Mrs. Lola G. Weatherman; Agriculture — Mr. Homer Hall; Trade and Industries — Mr. Clarence E. Hall; Distributive Education — Mr. Leon M. Pollard.

Teachers Mrs. Blum and Mr. Pollard, try to talk out their students' problems that occur during the day.

Director of Instruction, Mr. Weatherman, looks at what to write next.

OFFICERS ELECTED; MASCOTS

Senior girls Nancy Witt and Donna Gilbert are filled with the Halloween spirit on sock day.

The Class of '74 with its 230 members, was proud of their title of being the largest class to ever graduate in Patrick County. Because of the larger number, twenty-one room mothers had to be chosen instead of the usual total of twelve. Also one extra senior sponsor was added for the same reason.

The Seniors received their class rings in late April of their junior year. The Senior pictures were taken in early September for the purpose of receiving them earlier. The old trend was broken when the girls wore drapes instead of the regular dress. Then in November, graduating gowns and announcements were chosen and then ordered on December 14 and January 21 respectively.

The Class of '74 was the first in the history of Patrick County High School to present a Senior class play. The play chosen by the class was Rest Assured. The class was greatly united by their efforts.

MASCOTS: Robin Roberts and Timothy Cassell.

The Senior Class chose this philosophical idea, submitted by Pat Wood, as their motto.

Government teachers Martin, McHone, and Tobler put forth a full effort to present to Senior students the social and political aspects of our gov't. Facts and figures were drilled into the heads of each student who proved himself by taking a standardized test at the end of each chapter.

Nixon, Watergate and the Energy Crisis appeared as the most talked about current issues during the course of the year.

Much controversy has risen over the rules and regulations pertaining to smoking during school hours in the past few years. Those students who wish to smoke cannot do so unless they have received parental permission. There is a smoking area provided, but students are restricted to smoking only before and after school and at lunch time.

Most of the students follow the rules set up for them. However, there are a few who have found a way around such regulations without really defying them. Can we accredit this to their ingenuity? Or, are there really loop holes if these rules are taken literally?

Senior girls brought a different flair to Halloween in October. Approximately half of the girls in the class responded to a proposal to wear jeans rolled up over their knees and bright colored knee socks. Along with the crazy dress a mysterious wave of silliness swept over them causing much laughter and an overall good feeling.

more and better rights for the students.

During the existence of the five high schools, Seniors were allowed to cut line at lunch, but they cannot now. Thinking of letting one class go early to lunch could cause conflicts with other classes. Senior privileges have remained about the same since the beginning of PCHS and this year the questions of exemption from mid-term exams arose among students of the class of '74. The issue was discussed and dismissed, but through the hard work and frequent visits to the school board by the class officers, they arranged that all Seniors would be exempt from final exams if they were not failing a subject.

Senior privileges have always existed although no one ever really considers them until they reach their last year of high school. There have never been many privileges bestowed upon any class, especially since consolidation. This could be contributed to the fact that before PCHS the classes of the individual schools were less than half the size of what they are now. The gain of Senior privileges was furthered in the school year of 1971-72, when through the efforts of their class president, Seniors maintaining a B average were exempted from final exams. This was a major breakthrough but was it enough? The answer could be yes, considering the larger number of students in this school, one could assume that the administration is afraid to allow them as much freedom as before. Although credit must be given to the administration, it is still the greatest stepping stone to

Though the main privileges of Seniors throughout the past 3 years consisted of a picnic and going to Sports-lanes after graduation. But this cannot be wholly blamed on the administration, for some of the responsibility lies on the students themselves. Have the Seniors used the proper channels to have their suggestions heard, such as passing them along to their class president, or have they really worked and tried to get them passed?

Along with these, Seniors have problems with the high costs of graduating. So much money has to be paid out for expenses such as pictures, announcements, caps and gowns, class rings, along with many others.

Outside Mrs. Beeler's classroom, Kenneth Pendleton takes a make-up test on The Canterbury Tales.

Senior English classes were found by most students to be highly diversified. While some were involved in reading a modernized version of The Canterbury Tales, others read and analyzed Jonathan Livingston Seagull. There were no arguments over which was the most interesting. Both were greatly enjoyed by the majority of students.

Stuck again, Sammy Doss puzzles over his next answer.

This year at Patrick County High School, the Sub-freshman, Freshman, and Juniors participated in the magazine sales. The money the Sub-freshman and Freshman made went to the S.C.A. The S.C.A. used this money for handbooks and sponsoring dances. The Juniors used the money to sponsor the Junior and Senior Prom.

Roger Gray and Dean Adams seem to enjoy hamming it up for the photographer while in Art class.

FRIENDS AND FATIGUE

Certain requirements are made for the students at PCHS. Sub-freshman are required to take English, P.E. & Health, Math, and Science. Freshman are required to take English, P.E. & Health, and Math 9 or Algebra I. Sophomores are required to take English, P.E. & Health, and Biology. Juniors are required to take English and U.S. History.

"Be sure to get my good side," exclaims R.C. Bowman.

Unable to participate in regular P.E. activities, these 9th grade girls look on from the bleachers.

The school's pay phones are frequently used by students during lunch.

"Yes, this is a happy place," thinks Randal Hollandsworth.

Magazine sales and the ordering of class rings played the most important roles in Junior class activities. Generally, the class felt that another money making project was needed after the magazine sale goal of $3,500 was not met even after an extended period of one week. Juniors ordered class rings from Herff-Jones on November 7. The rainbow style proved highest in popularity. Practically every member of the class bought a ring despite raised prices due to an increased gold surcharge.

Blowing up balloons is Kim's favorite pass time.

Cheerleader, Nancy Wilds, found this a much easier "job" than cheering.

Now that they have reached the 10th grade, sophomores have all the fun of learning the parts of an engine and how it works. After school and during study hall, the sophomores have a chance to try their skill at driving. Since Patrick County has only one stop light, the sophomores have to learn to stop when the light turns red instead of running the stop signs.

Preparing for a hard day's drive, Mr. Diggs looks grim at the prospect of riding with James Hatcher.

Our one and only stoplight in Patrick County.

SOPHOMORES LOOK FORWARD TO BECOMING UPPER CLASS- MEN

Displaying an example of P.E. Gymnastics routine, Tammy Hill warms up with a head-stand.

Lunches an hour late increase hunger pangs during 3rd and 4th periods. Terry Amos finds that a mid-morning snack helps to sustain him.

Since no student lounge is provided, tenth grade girls, Barbara Pendleton, Gail McAlexander, and Vanessa Rakestraw must sit on the floor to relax.

SUB-FRESHMEN ADJUST EASILY TO HIGH SCHOOL ROUTINE

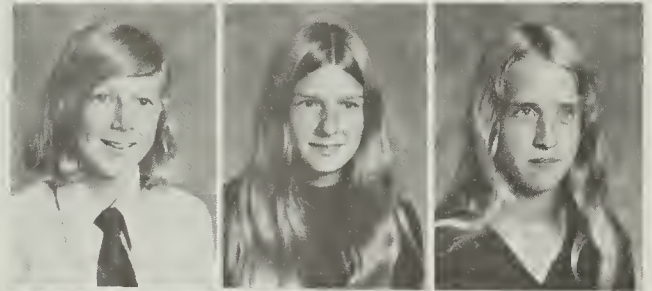

First year foreign language classes were a popular choice of sub-freshmen electives. Skills in oral communication and pronunciation are aided by listening to tapes in Mrs. Mary Lee Mitchell's class.

The first taste of the routine as high school students provided the very large sub-freshman class of 354 with a somewhat new experience. Difficulties in adjustment, though few, were aided by quickly-made friends and experienced teachers from all parts of the county. Every student was given a chance to participate in club activities, 8th grade sports, or the class money making magazine sale. Aside from extra-curricular activities, 8th graders showed a special interest in foreign language and band as electives.

OFFICERS LEAD CLASS THROUGH A

Sub-Freshman class: Vice-President, Elliot Pilson; Sponsor, Mrs. Phyllis Kodenski; Secretary, Shirley Rakes; President, Tammy Mayes; Sponsor, Mrs. Wanda Talbert.

When the teacher turns her head, Kevin and Kenneth Reynolds start discussing their master plan to confuse the teacher again.

During Homecoming dance, Debbie Hiatt awaits for the next dance.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR

During break, Lowell Reynolds goes to his locker.

Bugle editor, Bob Martin, and assistant, Ed Myers, discuss coming school year events with Mr. Weatherman.

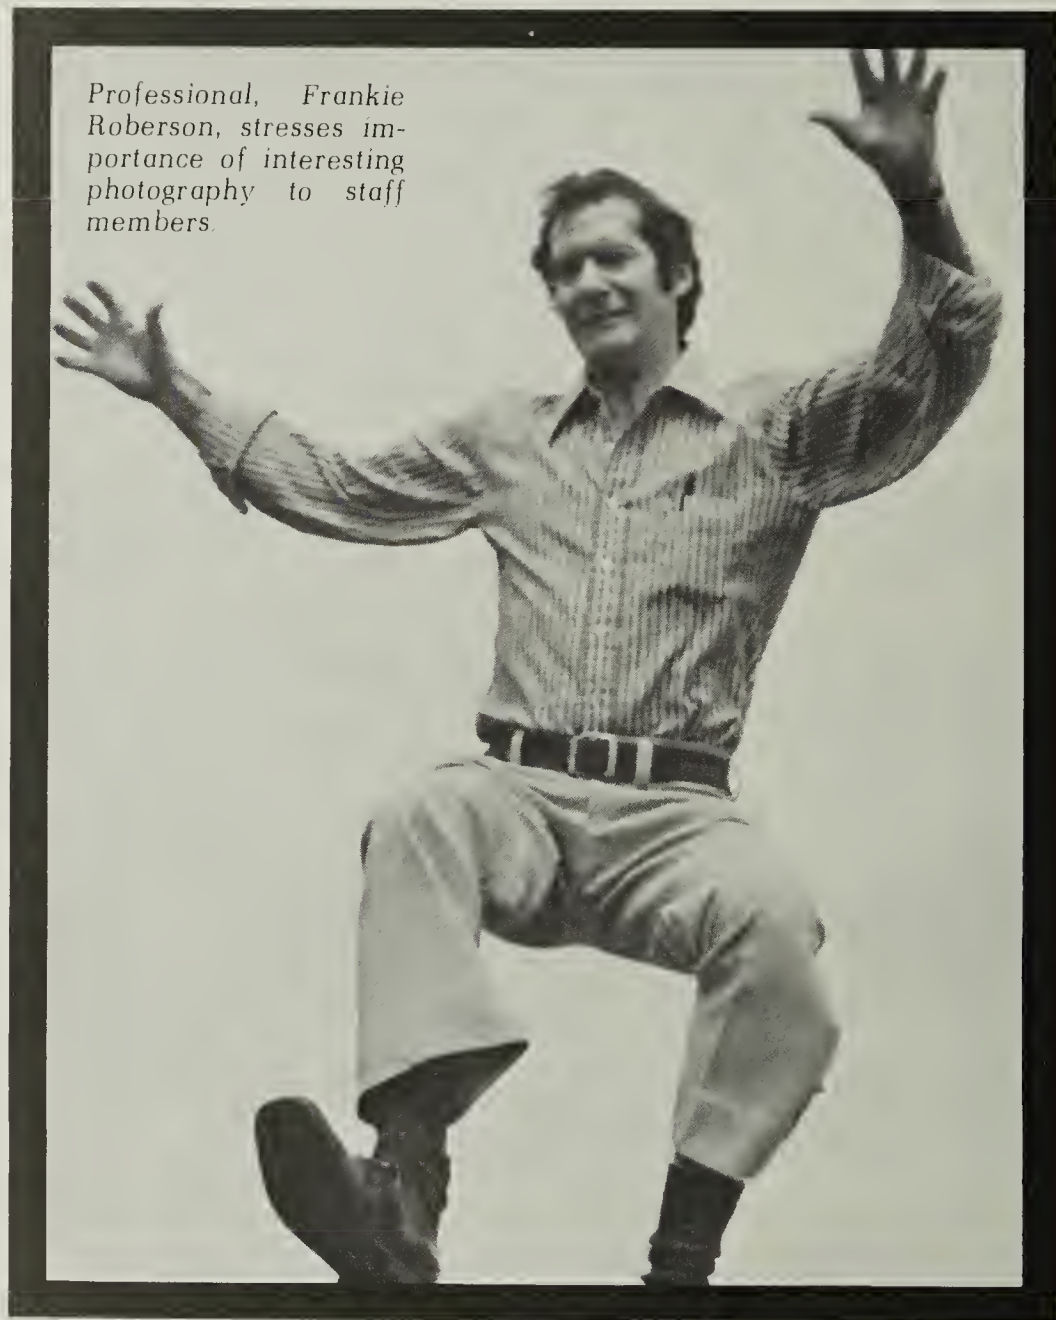

Special Thanks to —

Mr. Frankie Roberson who spent much of his time taking and developing a great number of the pictures in this edition.

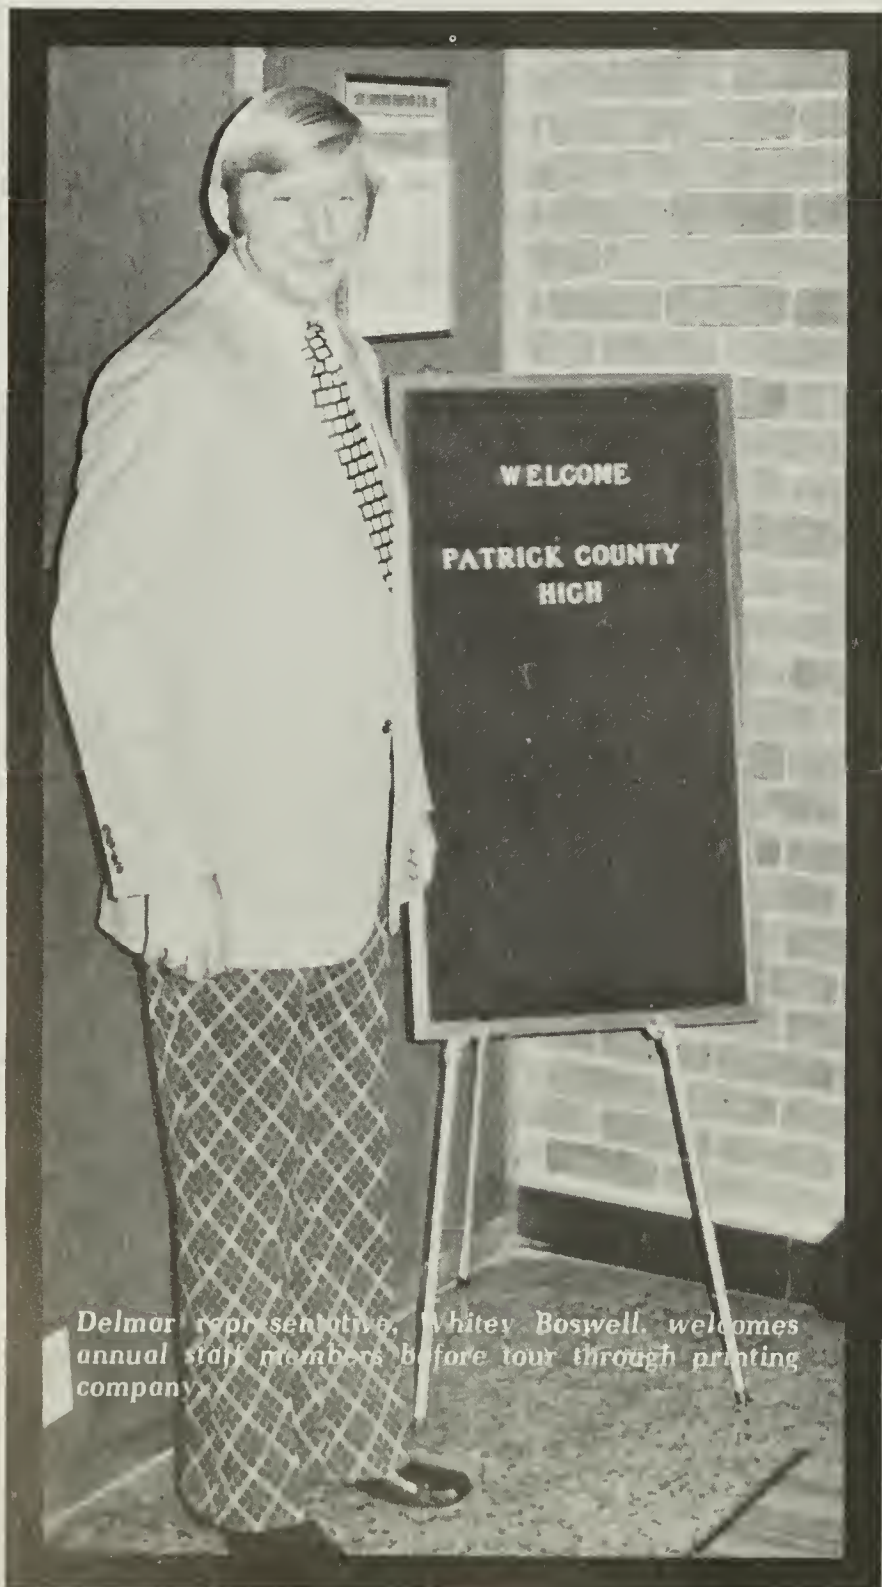

The local newspapers, The Bull Mt. Bugle and The Enterprise for providing us with pictures and badly needed information.

Delmar and its representatives for class pictures, several group shots, and especially for their helpful advice.

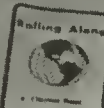

Professional, Frankie Roberson, stresses importance of interesting photography to staff members.

Delmar representative, Whitey Boswell, welcomes annual staff members before tour through printing company.

Environmental Bill Fought By Landowners

A group of approximately 100 people gathered in the Delmar area to voice their opposition to a proposed environmental bill. The bill, which would require landowners to obtain permits before clearing land, was met with strong resistance. The group, consisting of local residents and business owners, argued that the bill would be too costly and burdensome for small businesses and individuals. They expressed their concerns to local officials and the media, hoping to prevent the bill from passing.

ENTRANCES

Both local and state businesses give their support in the making of the annual.

Through the individuals and businesses who were interested enough in our school to show their support by buying advertising space and contributing to the yearbook, we were able to obtain a major part of the funds needed to publish the '74 Archive. We would like to express our thanks to these people because without them there would be no Archive at all.

A smile is Donna Gilbert's friendly way of greeting customers at Owen's Jewelry Store.

STEVENS

THE COMPANY WHERE PEOPLE MAKE THE DIFFERENCE!

When you join Stevens, you'll be part of one of America's largest textile manufacturers. You'll be helping to produce some of the finest textiles in the world — fabrics used for everything from dresses and suits to parachutes and missile nose cones. You'll work for a company that takes pride in you — a company where people make the difference.

Ten years from now, will you have a good job with a first-rate salary and a promising future? Or will you be stuck in a dead end? Choosing a career now with Stevens can make the difference!

For details on job opportunities, contact the Personnel Department at the Stevens plant nearest you.

In 1882 Edison had a great idea.

And it wasn't the electric light.

The whole idea of investor-ownership of electric light and power companies began when Thomas A. Edison and a group of investors financed his first power plant more than 80 years ago.

Since then, investor-owned companies like ours have become an integral part of America's Free Enterprise system. That explains why today we have at our fingertips more electric power than any other country in the world.

And it's this same Free Enterprise system that puts at your fingertips greater opportunity, greater expectation for success than can be hoped for by any other young people in the world.

Volunteers Promote School Interest

Every school depends heavily on volunteers. Whenever work and planning are needed for club activities, class elections, assemblies, or other extra school events, there is always someone who will donate his time, effort and talents to get it done.

Of course, some people are more willing to volunteer than others. Varying degrees of individual interest in such activities account for this, but not exclusively. Many times there are benefits involved, such as, getting out of class, receiving an A for your services, or just proving to yourself that you can meet the challenge, which make the extra effort seem worth while.

Volunteering to serve on a committee to decorate for the Spring Dance, make favors for the faculty during Teacher Appreciation Week or design posters for the SCA campaign, etc., regardless of reason, is one of the ways that school unity and interest is promoted. Working with others, having a good time in the process, despite the hard work, and being able to share pride, or even embarrassment, in the final result perhaps is the greatest thing to be gained by volunteering.

Hoping for first prize, Marc Flippin, Rita Clement and Ann Clement work diligently on Beta Club float.

Using her time during study hall, Karen Moore renders her typing services to teachers and administration in the office.

Volunteering his free time, Lanny Bray prepares a club poster.

Boredom

Classroom Displays of Sighs, Yawns, Distant Looks, Create Problems for Students and Teachers

Freshman, Kathy Turner, finds Monday morning classes seem to go much slower than usual.

All alone or by the dozen, they're not hard to spot. With one quick glance around the room, you'll see the guy beside you has his eyes closed behind those tinted glasses and the girl up front, who's thoughts are miles away, has been reading page forty-seven for half an hour.

There are few courses at PCHS that can, even with the aid of the most imaginative teaching techniques, keep every member of a class in a state of wide eyed concentration. A single wandering thought during a lecture or reading assignment can lead its creator so deeply into a daydream that he forgets, completely, where he is and what he's doing.

Any student, even those with full intentions of listening and absorbing something from a daily lesson, can fall victim to boredom and daydreams. The sign language of boredom (sighs, yawns, and distant looks) is most commonly displayed on Mondays when thoughts of weekend activities prevail, and in the classroom where complete silence is demanded or little student participation takes place.

Boredom can result in terrible embarrassment for anyone who is unlucky enough to be absolutely out of touch with what's going on around him, should the teacher ask him a question. Suddenly, he is brought back to reality and the classroom and faced, not only with an unheard question but total silence penetrating stares from every person in the room and a blush that grows brighter with every passing second.

This may sound like a squeamish situation, but what about the person who, because of boredom or the keeping of late hours, falls asleep in class? He may go unnoticed until he starts to snore or mumble, but when the person finally is brought to the attention, you can be sure the situation will be taken advantage of. The teacher, usually endowed with a great ability to come up with effective ways to further the embarrassment of the uninterested sleeper, can put to use such actions as blowing a loud horn in the person's ear or letting him sleep through the bell.

Students In- volved in Classwork, Friends, Extracurricular Activities

Still unsure of what has happened, Terri Williams claps with less enthusiasm than before.

Sophomores are relieved at Mrs. Reynolds announcement of a free study period during Biology class.

Study hall provides time for concentrating on homework assignments or relaxing while breaking away from regular class periods.

There is little excuse for inactivity at P.C.H.S. The large number of academic and vocational courses from which to choose keep students busy for six hours a day while various clubs, organizations, sports, and squads provide chances for further school involvement.

Often, clubs and classes require members to put in extra hours after school to work on projects that cannot be completed in classes between 9:00 and 3:00. Practices for cheerleading as well as athletics occupy participants' time after school, also.

Sports activities held several nights a week prove to be popular pastimes for students. Playing on the team, cheerleading, working in the concession stand, or yelling from the bleachers, students get involved in many ways.

Antic, Larry Nowlin, receives laughs from posers by during track practice after school.

Almost every student takes advantage of the many vocational courses offered at P.C.H.S. Wonda Vaden and Cossie Mills work on clothing project in Home Ec.

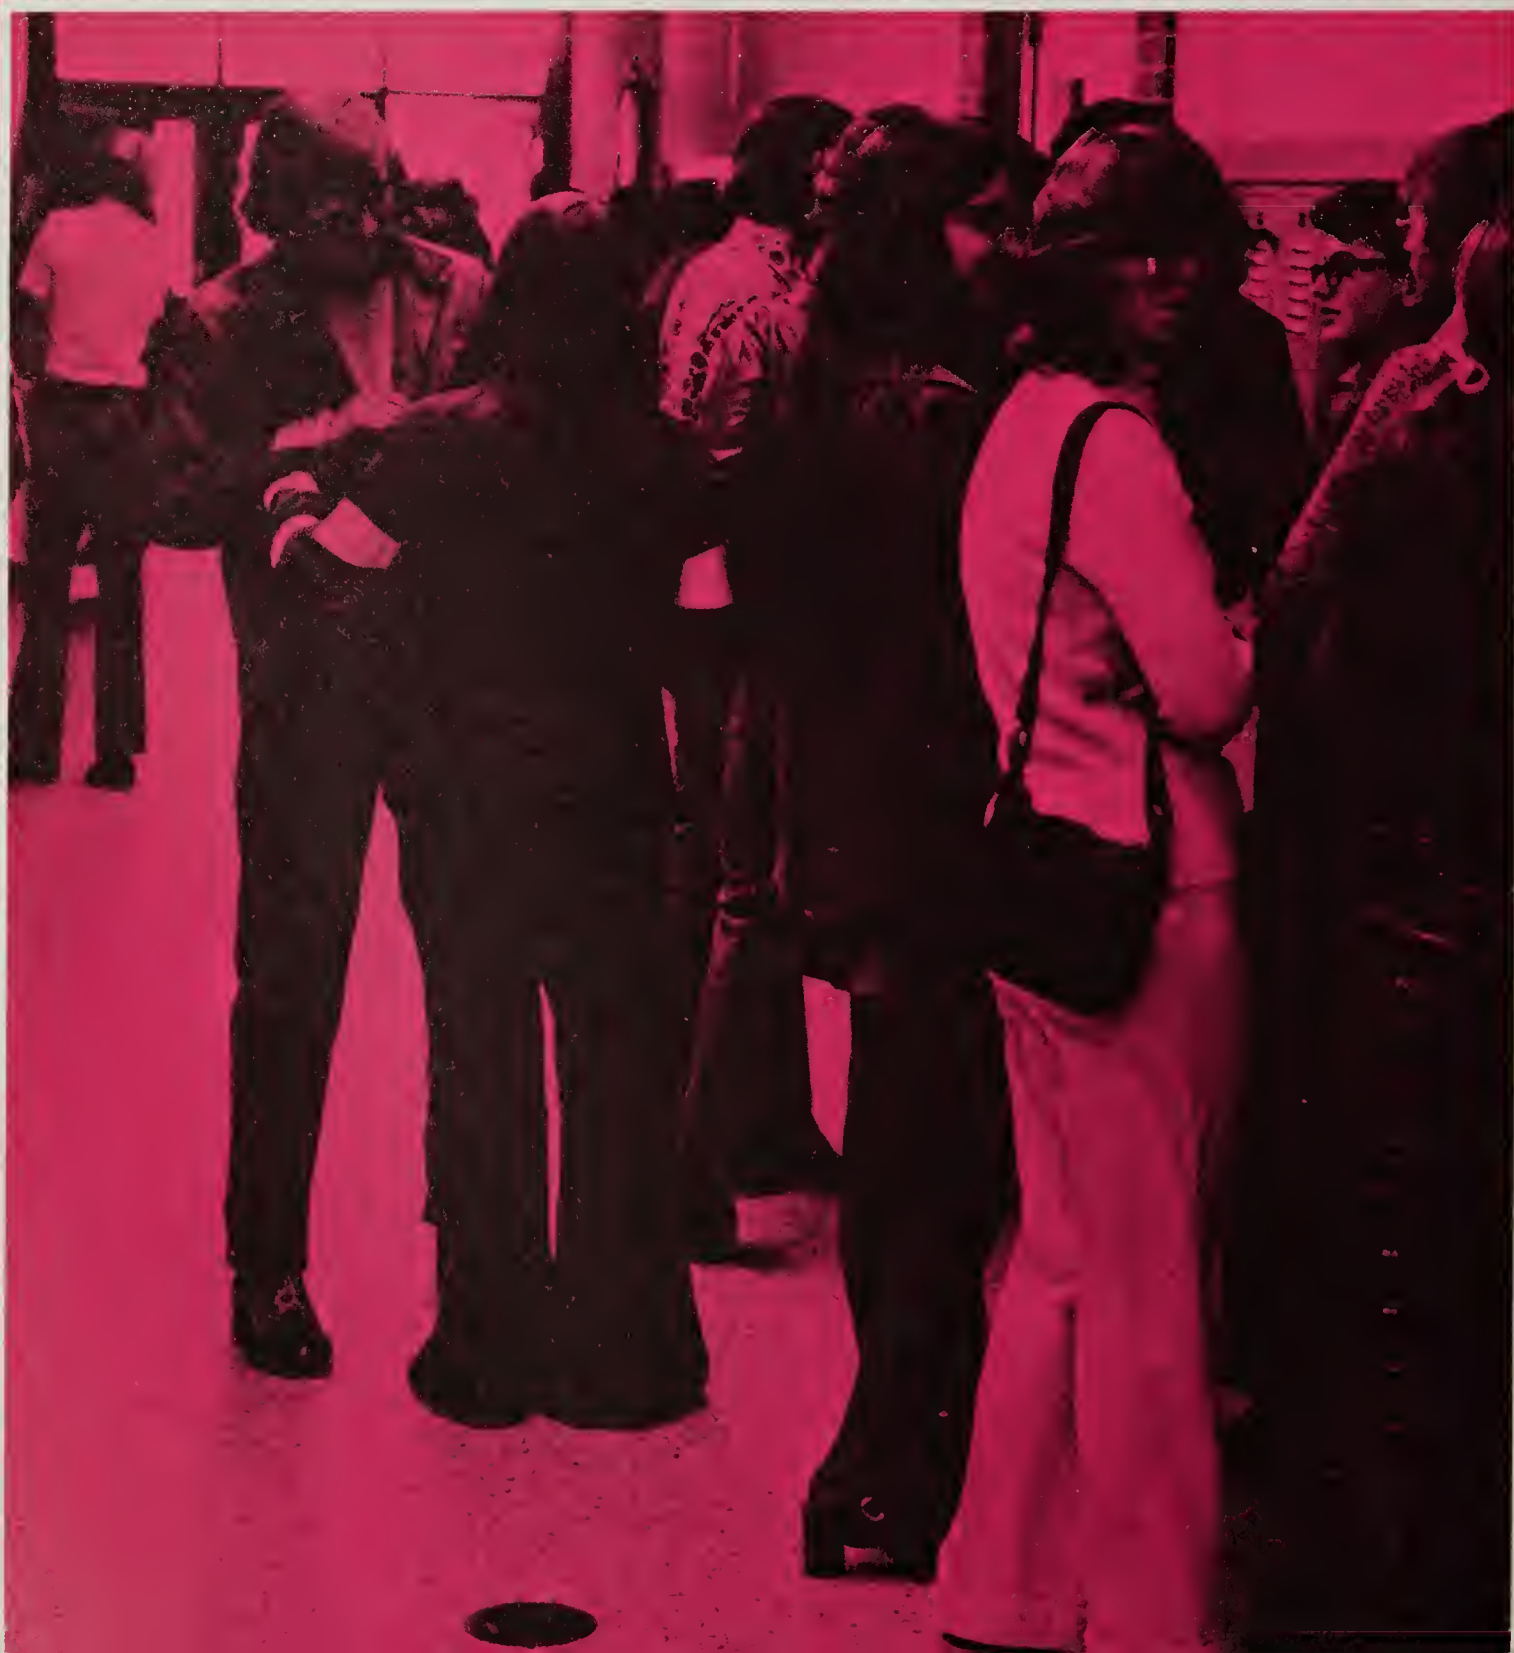

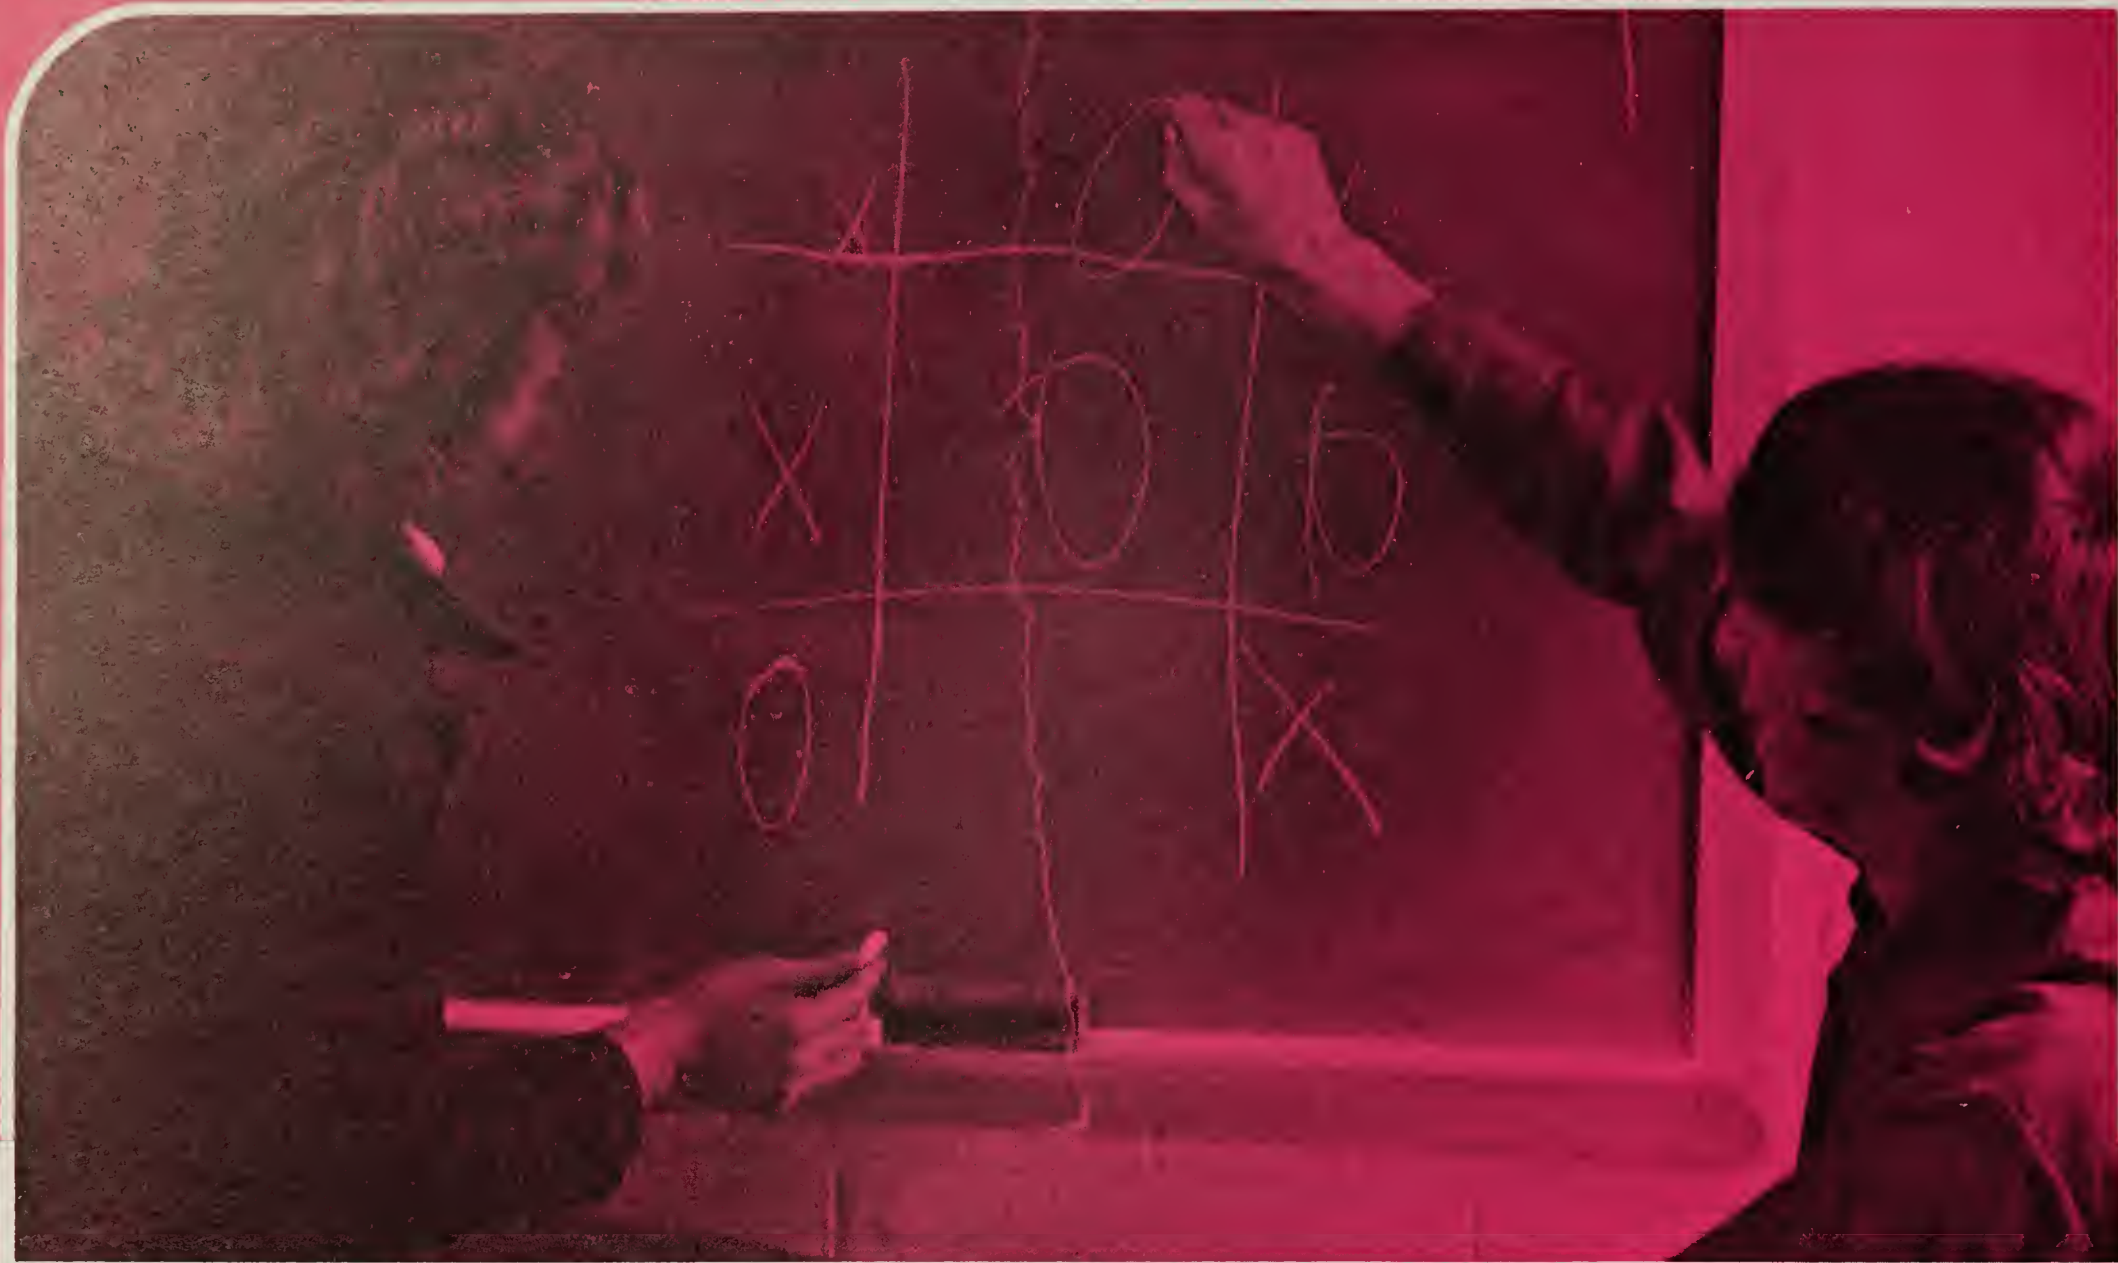

Sophomore, Tommy Hill practices a hand stand while waiting for P.E. class to begin.

Free Time: Enlightening Interludes

222 Closing

Taking advantage of a few free minutes Kenneth Willard and James Hamm engage in a game of tic-tac-toe.

Between classes, students have a quick opportunity to go to lockers and talk with friends before second bell rings.

Lunchtime is one of the few chances that people have to socialize outside the classroom.

lunch, mid-morning break, between classes, before and after school
 free time
 students parade through the halls stopping at their lockers to talk to friends gathering at the smoking area filling empty classrooms, the SCA office, and the cafeteria discussing homework assignments, other people, or what they did last night finding another day of school a being glad to see someone they like and hear the 3:02 bell ring

The SCA office serves as a gathering place for students during lunch.

Something as simple as a trip to the water fountain can break the monotony of daily school routine.

Which of us, at one time or another, hasn't pondered the question of where to go from here?

There seem to be three predominant roads to take after finishing high school — marriage, college, or the search for a job.

After receiving the long awaited piece of paper as a reward for the completion of twelve years of school and an important part of their lives, some seniors are faced with a tough decision. But, whatever the choice, each individual is subjected to a different style of life under new pressures. Away from home, with new freedoms and slacker routines, what little yearning there is left for the sheltered high school days soon dies with the arrival of resulting responsibilities and decision making.
